For the second year in a row, the senior class took first place in the Homecoming float competition. The theme of the winning float was "Make the Panthers walk the plank". This award only added to the excitement of Homecoming when Shelly Ross was crowned queen, and Stephanie Smith and Amy Anderson were named attendants. The girls were escorted by Todd Michel, Craig Pack and Rick Smith, respectively.

The senior class planned a trip to Florida and raised money for the trip by selling Kit-N-Kaboodles, spirit badges and candy.

The class visited Orlando, Florida, for five days stopping off at the new Epcot Center, Disney World, Wet-N-Wild and Daytona Beach.

Senior Class officers were: Shari Davidson, historian; Shelly Ross, vice-president; Dawn Bickley, president; Kris Knauer, secretary; and Brian Fleming, treasurer.

Seniors travel to Epcot Center

A trip to Epcot Center with its city of future was the highlight of this year's senior class trip. Thirty-nine seniors and six chaperones made the twenty-four hour drive. Side trips to Wet-n-Wild, Daytona Beach, and Disney World were on the agenda. The cost of the trip was $230, but many students earned money by selling different items to reduce their trip cost.

In order to make money for various projects, the juniors sold decanters filled with candy and nuts. They also ran the concession stand at football and basketball games.

Homecoming is a special time, and it was especially nice for Amy Smith, junior attendant and her escort, Linus Bruno. It was also a special time for those who helped construct and decorate the class float.

When April came around, the juniors piled on a bus, not wanting to break with tradition, and headed for Washington, D.C.

The class also sponsored the junior-senior prom, "Just You and I", held at the Crystal Room on May 14.

The class officers were: Chris Smith, president; Val Barone, vice-president; Steve Stockdale, secretary; Tim Holkenborg, treasurer.

They also visited the Ford Theatre, the FBI Building, the Supreme Court, the Capitol, the Smithsonian, the Washington Cathedral, the Washington Monument, and Arlington Cemetery.

The group attended two dinner theaters, one at the Kennedy Center and one in Rockville, Md. They saw "Showboat" and "Pirates of Penzance".

Ending their full schedule of activities, they returned to the high school on April 7.

D. Semprich, R. Schwiefert, S. Dute, B. Hanchin, C. Kenne and P. Johnson meet before school.

Riding the bus to school is how Julie Lenyo begins her day.

Barry Arndt gathers his books for the long day ahead.

The junior hall is always full of people before the eight o'clock bell.

Students caught up in daily grind

With the sound of the first bell, the day is started.

When the alarm clock went off on August 30, 1982, the students of Perkins High became caught up in a daily grind that would last for nine long months-nine months of school with only weekends off (a good time to catch up on sleep) and an occasional holiday (for good behavior).

The alarm goes off and a hand emerges from under warm covers to pound it into silence. Warily and still asleep the PHS student stumbles out of bed and heads for the bathroom. After five minutes of standing under an ice-cold shower the student is awakened into the reality of facing another day in the 'temple of knowledge'.

Given an additional ten minutes and the student emerges dried and dressed for school. Breakfast consists of whatever is available before the bus arrives. (A breakfast of cold pizza and flat pop is not uncommon.)

Ah yes, the yellow school bus. It is now 7:30. With red lights flashing and open doors the bus welcomes the students aboard. After a fifteen minute ride (in a seat not made for anyone over 4'10" tall) the student arrives at beloved PHS.

At ten minutes to eight the first bell rings and announces that class will soon begin. At eight o'clock the tardy bell rings and the halls are empty except for those unlucky few who are on their way to the attendance office with a note explaining absence or to get a pass to class.

Shortly after eight come the morning announcements. Each day the assistant principal deciphers a variety of hieroglyphics and informs students of meetings, activities and scores.

After the morning announcements, the attendance cards are collected and sent to the office where the secretary puts all the information into the school's computer system. The day is officially started.

At the end of the first three mods . . . What is a mod? A full school day at Perkins consists of 24 mods which are fifteen minutes each. At the end of every three mods (called a pod) the bell rings and allows five minutes passing time between classes. The mod system can be very confusing especially to incoming freshmen . . . comes the first break of the day. For five minutes the halls fill with students laughing, talking and exchanging notes. By the time the bell rings once again the halls are empty except for those unlucky few on their way to the office for a pass to class.

Lisa Lopez and Mike Clark are on the inside looking out.

Here, Joe Brown shows his enthusiasm for computer class.

On to English. By this time the student is finally awake, but after the fourth day of Shakespeare just keeping the eyes open is a big task. English class is not all that bad but bringing the wrong book to class can be quite embarrassing. The bell rings and it is now time to go to the locker and get books for science.

It is not unusual to see students pounding and kicking these poor innocent lockers. Poor and innocent- what a laugh! These metal monsters must have a built in sixth sense that tells them when the student is in a hurry because without fail these steel storage boxes become impossible to open. If it is not the locks refusing to open, it is the doors sticking. Then there are the members of the junior class who get lockers with built in locks. On the first day of school the juniors are given the combinations and of course it is off by just a few digits. This class spends the entire rest of the year trying to figure out their combination, that is if they can find their locker in the first place. After wrestling with the locker for the entire five minutes, the PHS student has his books and is happily on his way to science.

Taking notes and more notes is the highlight of class, except for an occasional experiment. These so-called experiments are sheer delight to the junior. Einstein's and the rest just fake it. Some of the extras of class include melting various articles such as your lab partner's pen and pouring different chemicals onto the teacher's plants and watching for fatal results.

Study hall is next. At PHS the students have the option of either sitting in a boring classroom or going to the library. Both alternatives have their pros and cons. Depending on the teacher, sitting in study hall can be fun. In the library there is always the risk of being thrown out for a week (This is very easy to accomplish). The greatest thrill in study hall is when a student's name is omitted from the from the attendance, and Mr. Muffler calls him down and grills him as to his whereabouts at that time. (Sometimes having a witness helps.) After spending 45 minutes daydreaming and trying to look busy so the teacher doesn't find something for you to do, the student is more than ready for math.

Enter the wonderful world of math. (That's what the teachers think). Math class is a ritual. First the army food has got to taste better students take out their homework, and then it is corrected problem by problem. The next step is the introduction of new concepts (These are understood only by human computers) and then the homework. At last the bell rings- Lunch!

Army food has got to taste better. Out of the three lunch periods, getting band lunch has got to be the worst (not because of the band members- mind you). This lunch the last of the three is the most crowded and the noisest of all. In addition to the lack of chairs are the long lines. It never fails

Matt Mapus and partner are busy working on a project in welding class.

Lunchtime seems to be just another class for Chris Groover.

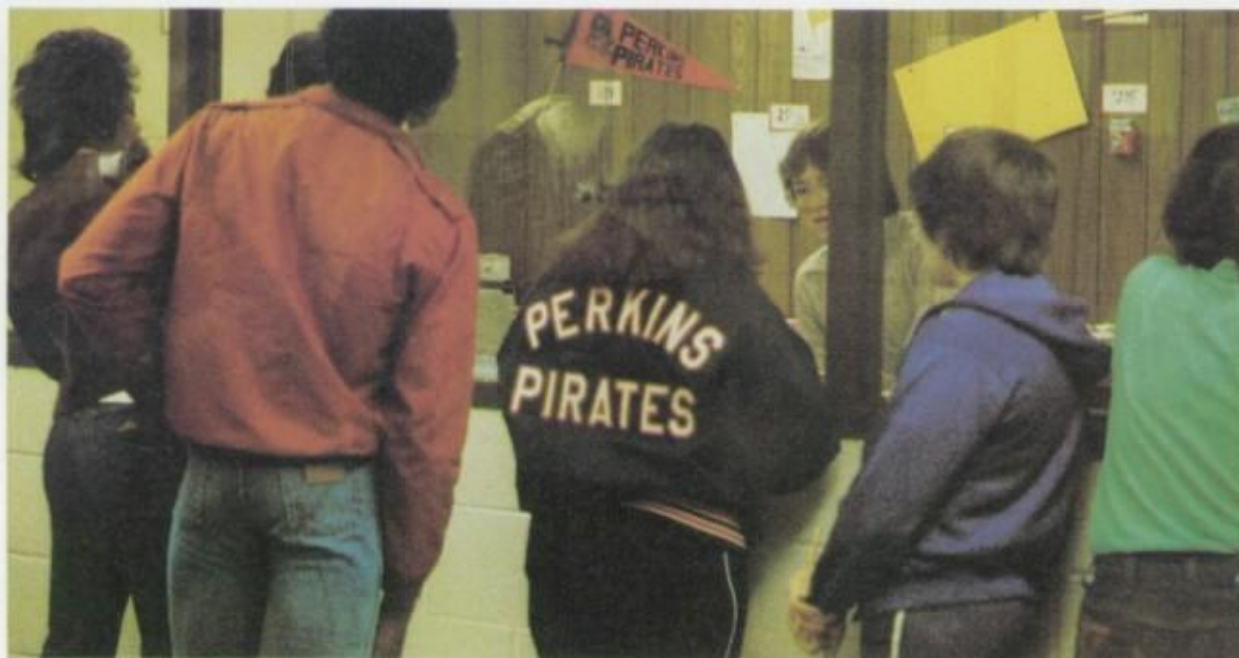

Vocational Agriculture class does not seem to be too difficult for Mark Stair and John Bouy.

Deb Pruitt and Shelly Pocock spend their study hall in the library.

Sherri Fischer and Caren Krause rest on the heater between classes.

The bookstore is a very busy place in the mornings before school.

Doc Stone even decorated the deer heads in his classroom for Christmas.

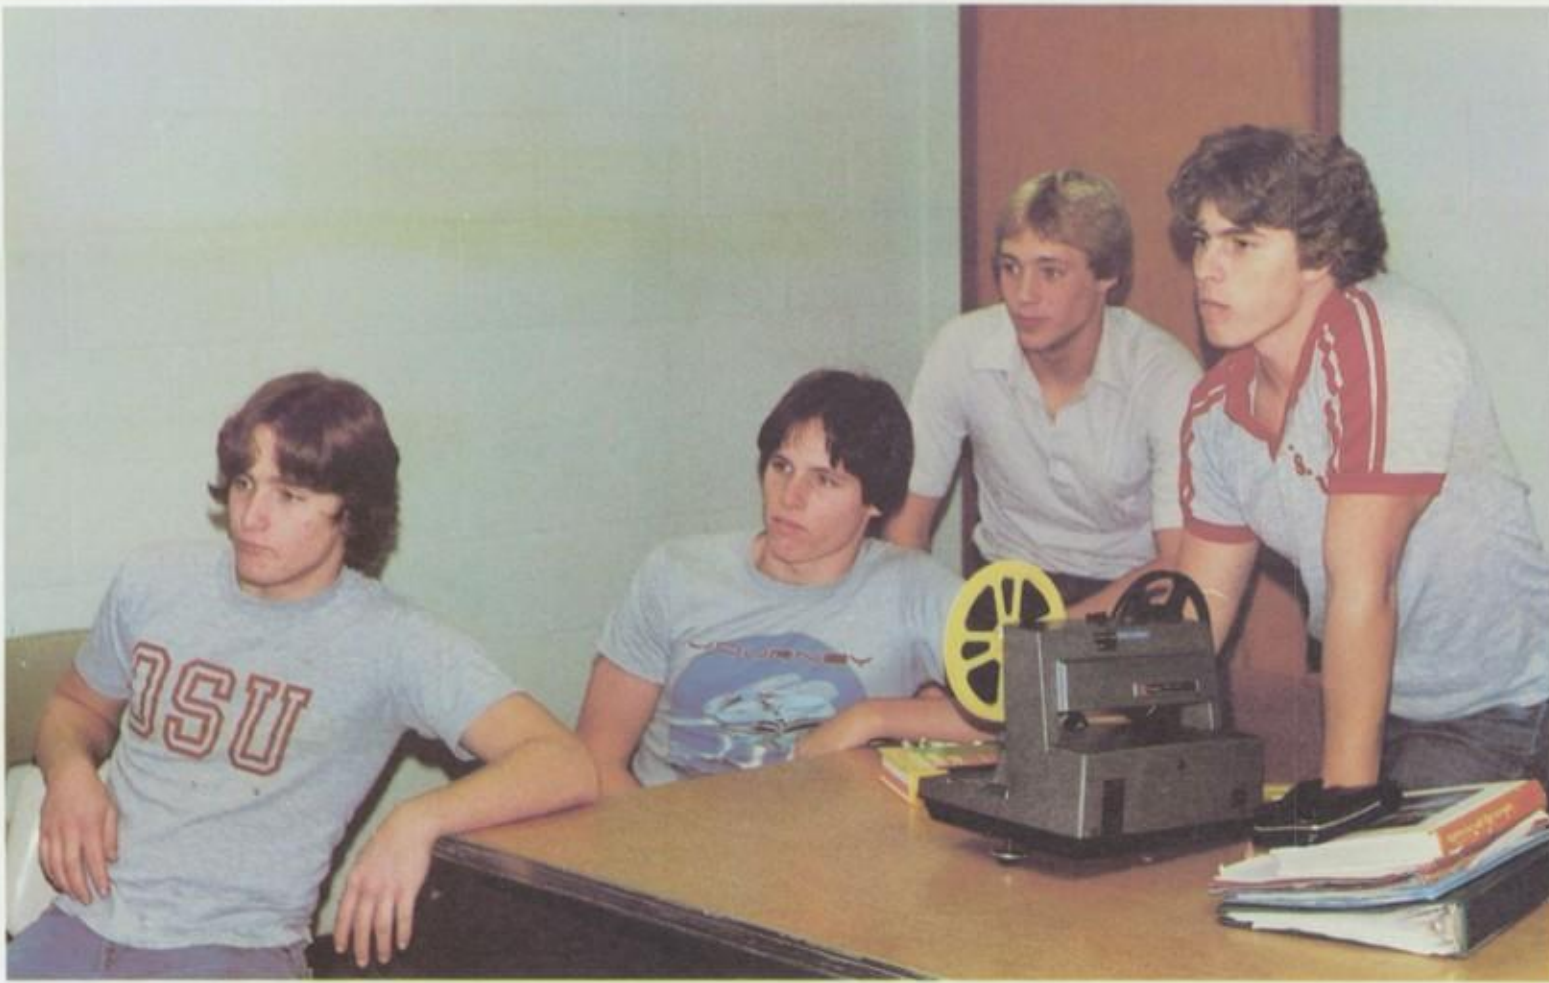

but the person at the front of the line doesn't have enough money and asks everyone in the cafeteria for donations. The most embarrassing thing has got to be when a student drops a tray full of food. This act immediately starts a chain reaction of shouts and applause while the student turns as red as the catsup he has spilled on the floor.

After lunch comes American Government and 5x8 cards. Government class will teach a student everything that he wanted (or didn't care) to know about different forms of government.

From American Government the student has to travel downstairs to his locker and in the time left go all the way down to the primary end of the building for typing class.

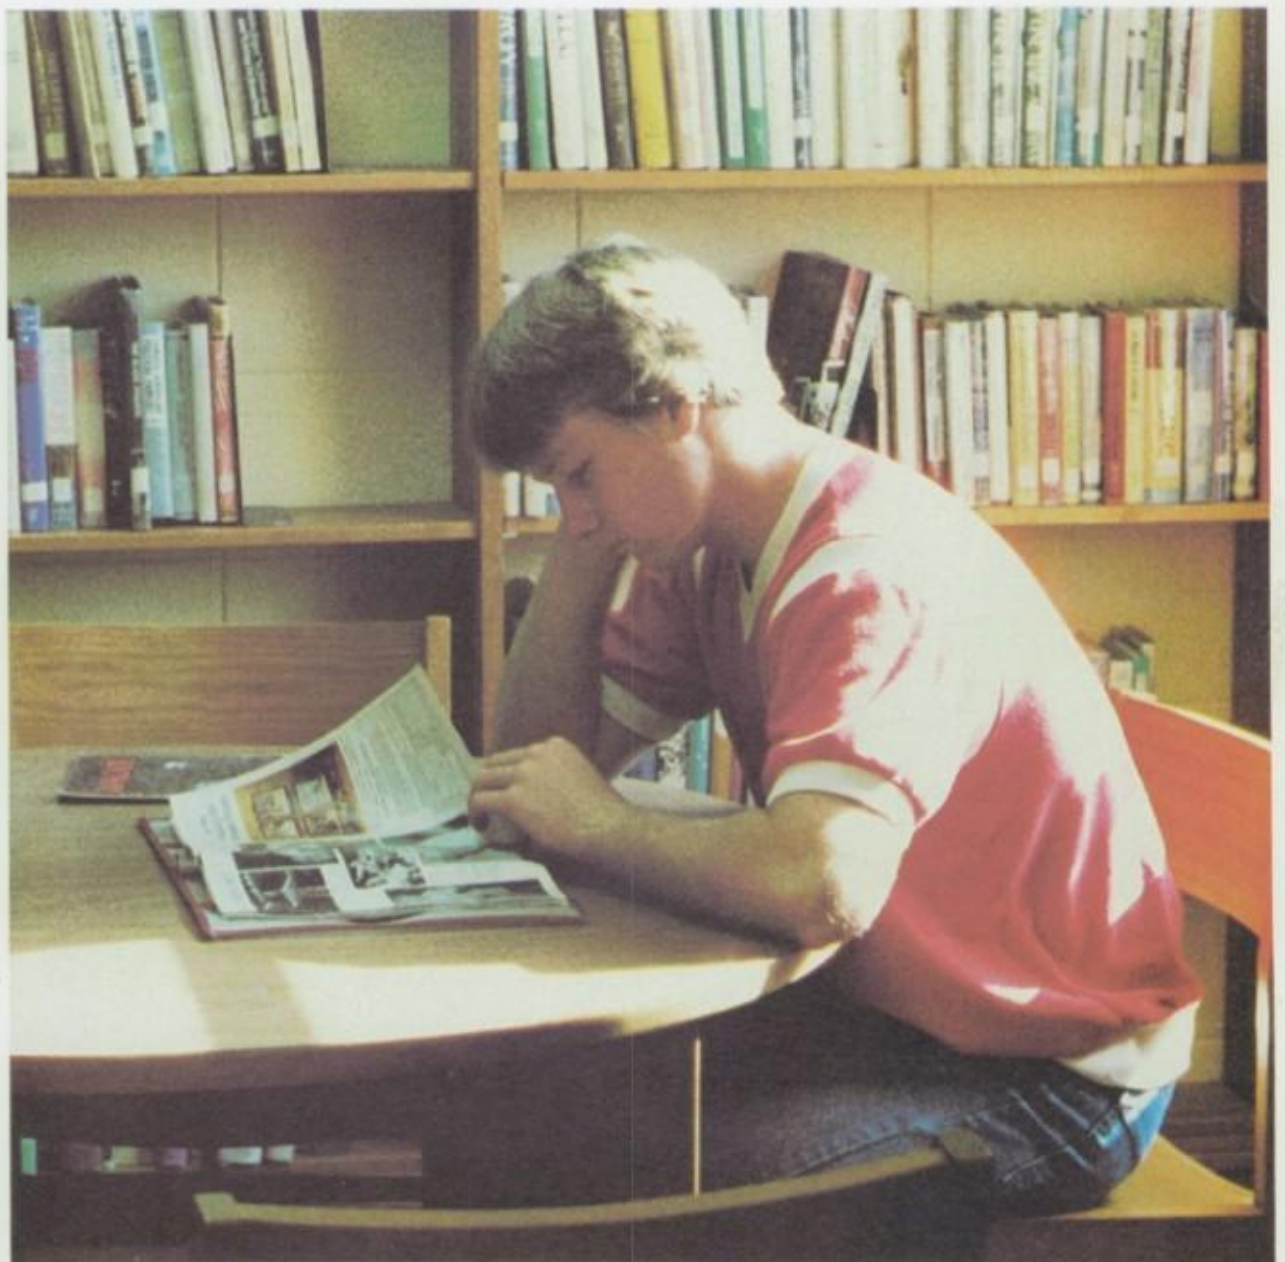

If the student has even the slightest headache (for whatever reason) typing class is not the place to be. The sound of thirty typewriters going at the same time can be quite nervewracking, not to mention noisy.

At 2:37 the final bell rings and a giant sigh of relief can be heard. After school means jobs, sports practice or a noisy ride home on the bus for an hour of General Hospital.

Frank Kidd, David Gleason, Tim Holkenborg and Craig Unckrich watch films of the football games during study hall.

With coat in hand, Morna Rollison anxiously awaits the final bell.

Senior Brian Printy seems totally absorbed in his magazine.

PHS still alive after hours

Athletics, clubs, activities keep school lively

After hours in the halls of Perkins High, the pitter-patter of little feet can be heard. Pitter-patter? Little feet? That has got to be the understatement of the year. How is it possible for twenty guys in size eleven tennis shoes to create so much noise? Easy! The athletes call it conditioning; the rest of the students compare it to a herd of stampeding elephants, but none-the-less each day after school the ritual runs on.

The cheerleaders somehow manage to find a section of the hall free from the conditioning athletes. Almost every day these spirited girls practice cheers or paint signs for the cafeteria.

There many organizations that hold their meetings after school. From Ski Club to NHS and Student Council, students and advisers are busy planning their activities. Among the activities the organizations are involved in after school is the Pirate's Cove. This year the Student Council run bookstore began to stay open all day and after school to enable students to purchase school supplies, candy or gum.

Some of the most appealing after-hour activities are the occasional bake sales. At these times students are given the chance to buy and eat almost any type of baked treat.

While all these activities are going on inside the building, a large group of students are busy practicing outside. In all kinds of weather the Pirate Marching Band is hard at work perfecting every piece of music and halftime show. The band is a major source of pride for the high school and with good reason. These students spend many long hours working and reworking their programs until they are worthy of a superior rating.

athletes call it conditioning

In addition to the music makers are two groups of very talented girls, the Pirettes and the newly established flag corps, who work in close cooperation with the marching band. The Pirettes create dances that correspond to the program music while the Flag Corps adds the special touch that makes the half-time show super.

Although many students stay after school, the majority leave after the last bell. Some will return later in the evening for a late practice or to see a school production. Many others will not return until the next day for class.

Some students go directly to an after school job. It is not uncommon to go into a fast food restaurant and see a classmate working there.

All of these activities take place except for Fridays. Sure there are jobs to go to, but there is not as much activity in the halls after the bell. Most students and teachers hurry home to get ready for the evening.

Friday nights usually mean a varsity football or basketball game and the start of the weekend.

For the next two days the halls are fairly quiet. They seem to be recuperating from the week's activities and preparing for Monday's morning.

M. Sample, N. Smith, K. Byington and J. Routsong line up before performing.

Cara Camp, Claudine Clement and Liz Ferrell go by car instead of bus.

General Patton gives Joe Sammarco some pointers during the game.

Mrs. Van Ness advises cast members at a play rehearsal.

Annette Josen, flag corps member, performs her routine during halftime.

Spirit lives at Perkins

Kellie Schuster and Mike Clark punked out during spirit week.

Tim Hoelzer, Rick Smith and Amy Eddy play between halves.

Senior Pirette, Julie Routsong, performs during halftime shows.

The Marching Band under the field direction of Craig Pack put on exciting shows.

Cheering at pep rallies is one of Cyndi Carrier's activities.

Spirit, something all schools should have. School spirit is encouraged and spread by three very special groups of people and the new school mascot. Perkins High School is fortunate enough to have cheerleaders, Pirettes and the newly established flag corps.

The three cheerleaders squads; varsity, reserve and freshmen do a lot to promote spirit among the coaches, players and students.

The girls organize the making of spirit boxes and scrapbooks for the football and basketball players. The cheerleaders hold a spirit week complete with clash, punk and color days. To top off spirit week is a Friday pep rally. Pep rallies are probably the single largest means of promoting spirit at Perkins. These rallies give the students a chance to get rowdy and to cheer for their team and class. At these times the auditorium fills with the sound of students clapping, shouting and cheering for the Pirates. Every Friday night, no matter what the weather, these girls can be found rooting the Pirate team on to a V-I-C-T-O-R-Y.

The second group of spirit makers is the Pirettes. Each spring tryouts are held and only the most dedicated and talented girls make the squad. The Pirettes make up routines, both pom-pom and dance, that correspond to the band's musical numbers. The Pirettes march, perform half time shows and go to competition along with the band.

Claudine Clement shouted about her spirit during the game.

The stands were alive with fans cheering the Pirates to an SBC Championship.

Last year the Pirettes used flags in their routines but not anymore. This is now the sole duty of the flag corps. At the end of last year the administration of Perkins High decided to start a flag corps. The flag group participates in the half time shows and marches along with the band. They are a very talented addition to an award-winning Pirate Marching Band.

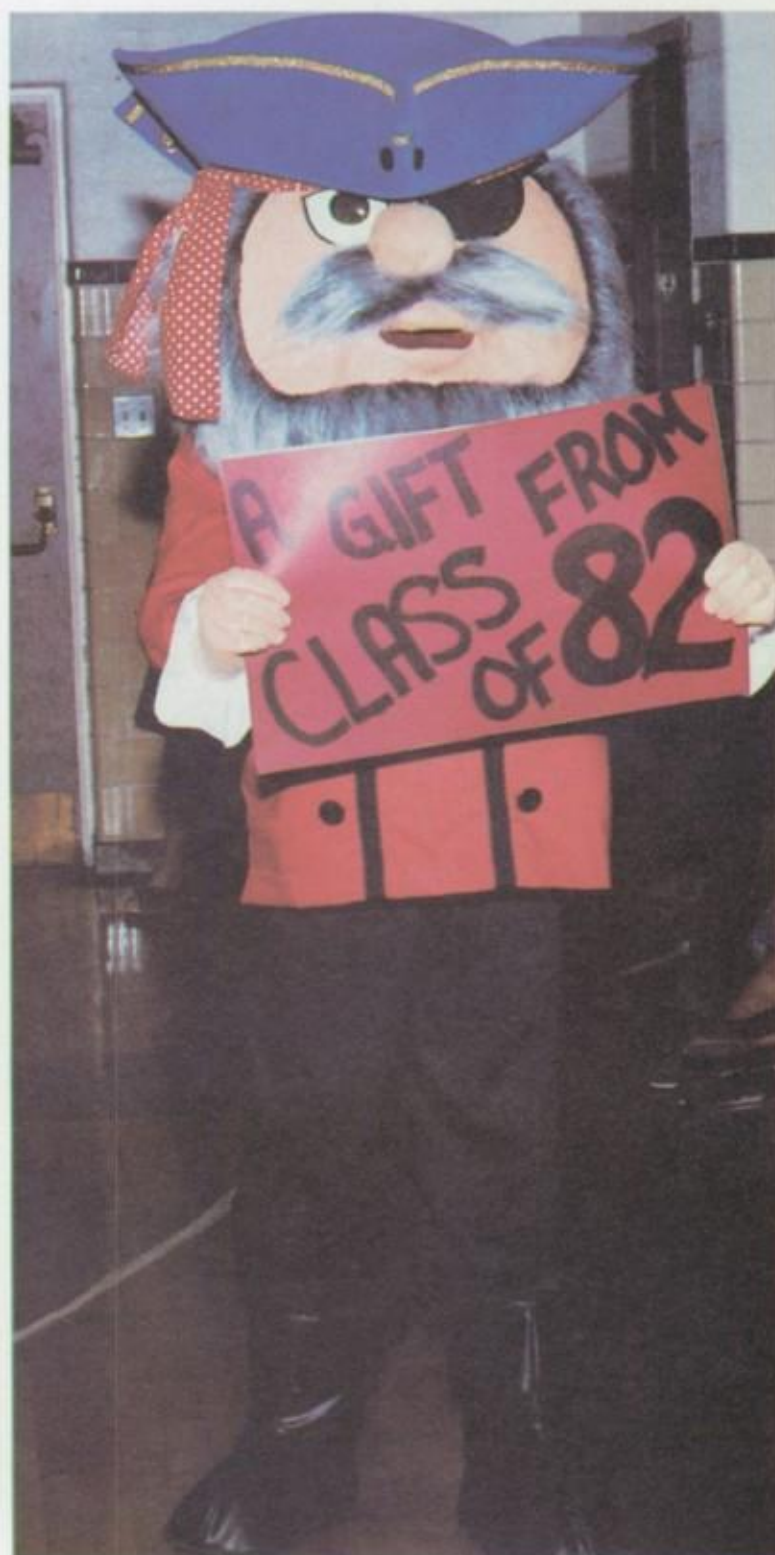

the mascot- a new source of spirit

If it sounds like the only spirit makers at PHS are girls it is time for a correction. The Quadrant is proud to present (drum roll please) the new mascot. This lively character was a gift from the graduating class of 1982.

The mascot was presented to the high school by former Senior Class President Nancy Bing at the Homecoming assembly. The mascot started off his reign by riding on the senior class float and cheering at the football games. A big thanks goes out to the class of '82.

Spirit, some say it is dead at Perkins, but many know better.

The new Pirate mascot was introduced at the coronation assembly.

Fads, fashions change; some flop

*Tuxedo, Punk, M*A*S*H*, Clash, MSB, E.T., Centipede Popular*

The weather changes from day to day, season to season and so do many fads. Throughout the years many fads have come and gone. There were the flapper's dresses, poodle skirts and Farrah-look; you rarely see them now.

Fads in the fashion world seem to be the most noticeable. The current trend in fashions is the shorter hemline, more and more miniskirts and shorter dresses can be seen. The tuxedo-look and sweaters are also very popular.

In current fads the 'punk rock' look is one of today's 'in' looks. Short skirts, crazy haircuts and bright colors in both clothes and makeup are just a few of the marks of the punk look.

These looks can be found in novelty stores which carry many items that become popular, but only for a short time. Colorful printed shoelaces, headbands, MASH fatigues and sexy calendars and posters are popular now, but who knows for how long?

The fashion world may be full of fads, but so is the world of music. Punk rock was widely publicized for a time and then fell off. The emergence of groups like the Ramones and The Clash were part of the punk rock push. Going to see their favorite rock group in concert is big with high school students. Asia, MSB and Rick Springfield are a hot ticket.

In theaters around the country, the Rocky saga continued with the release of Rocky III, but the film that was the biggest in 1982 was about a lost creature from outerspace. E.T. was the film to see and surprising enough the main character wasn't a Burt Reynolds or Robert Redford, but a little brown alien named E.T.

When students aren't at concerts or the movies they usually can be found at a local arcade dropping quarters into their favorite video game. The popularity of games like Pac-Man and Donkey Kong produced offspring in the likes of Ms. Pac-Man and Donkey Kong Jr.

Tom Ritzenthaler's punk hair cut never needs combing.

Pam Davis wears baggies and a small bow to keep in style.

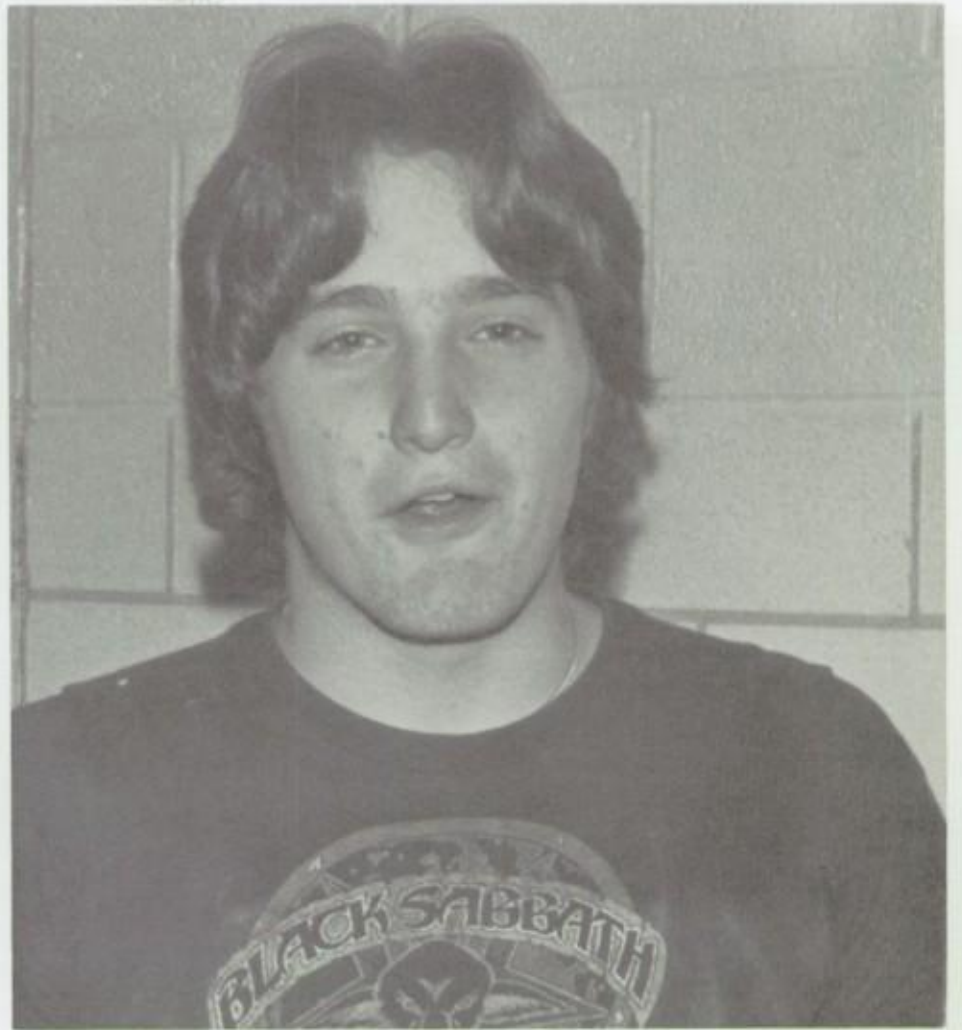

Patterned shoe-strings are popular.

Debbie Blakely sports her sweats and a rolled handkerchief-also popular.

Most everybody, including Frank Kidd, has a concert shirt to wear with jeans.

Sue White wears the popular long tie with her satin blouse.

New items emerge daily, some spark enough interest to be called fads, but others die a fast and painful death-these are the flops of the year.

Valley girls were the biggest flop of the year. A song by Frank Zappa and his daughter Moon Unit brought valley girls to the attention of the nation. A sure fire way to tell a valley girl is by her own special language. "Fer sure, fer sure" and "gag me with a spoon" are major phrase in their unique lingo.

In the fashion world fanny sweaters tried a comeback but didn't become popular and the army fatigue-look never did make it out of the big cities.

Brooke Shields, the face of the eighties, flopped in "Endless Love" and has not been heard from since.

Last but not forgotten, the 1982 National Football League was a Flop and now has some competition coming its way with the new United States Laegue. Will the USFL be just another fad? Only time will tell.

Students give service

Pirate aides take pride in helping others

Office Aide Tony Alexander is off to make the daily deliveries.

Jeff Ferree helps in the office by filling the teacher's mailboxes.

High school students at Perkins have the opportunity to work with younger students in the school system when they become involved in the Pirate Program. This program is for seniors who are interested in a career dealing with people.

The seniors who get to pick the grade level they want to work with and then go to a different school for an hour and a half each day. Periodically the group meets for a training session to discuss current problems such as drug abuse, teenage pregnancy and personal development.

The members of this year's program are: Nance Hesse, second grade; Melinda Burrows, L.D.; Laurie Lewis, second grade; Laura Kearney, art; Marci Manion, art; Kay Pankow, kindergarten; Tami Wadding, gym; Bev Lavey, kindergarten and Kris Plummer, Kindergarten.

Laura Kearney helps a younger Pirate on an art project.

Some of Laurie Lewis' duties include putting up bulletin boards.

Nance Hesse works on a board in Pirate.

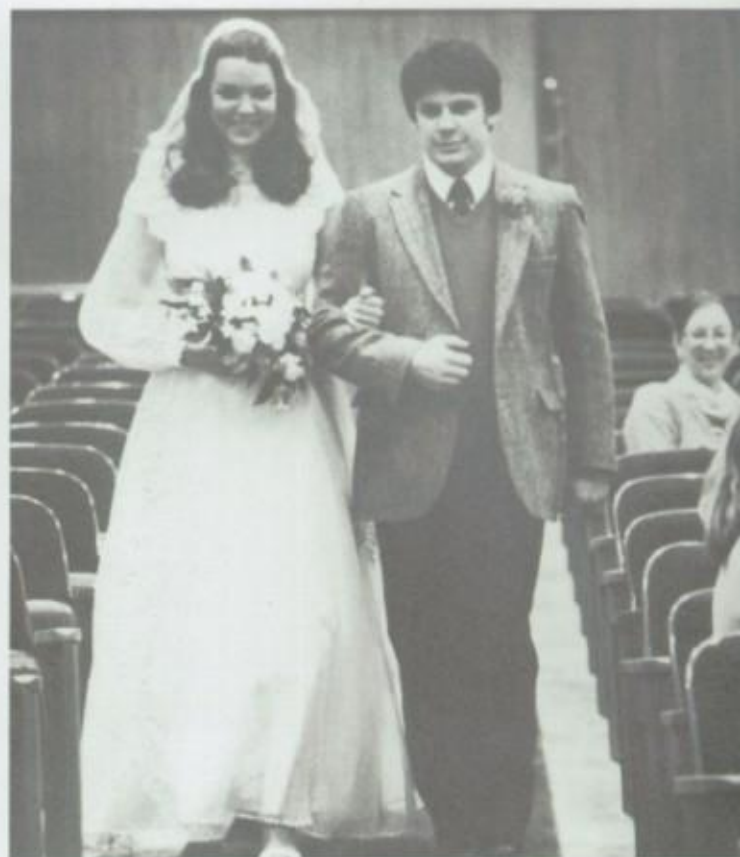

Melinda Burrows and friend work on a paper in class.

Part of the duties of an office helper is to look up schedules as Chris Lynn is doing.

'With this ring . . . I thee wed.'

Father of the Bride, Mr. Patton prepares to give Jennifer away.

Doug Getteman and Jennifer Cuthbertson were married by Greg Jones while best man Mike Coleman and maid of honor Kathy Ostheimer witnessed.

Two weddings highlight year

Family Living teaches wedding costs first hand

On December 7, 1982, a wedding took place in the high school auditorium. Students in Mrs. Gregory's Family Living class held their mock wedding complete with flowers, rings and formal attire.

This year Jennifer Cuthbertson and Doug Gettman were wed. Mr. Jim Patton gave the bride away, and the best man was Mike Coleman. The maid of honor was Kathy Ostheimer. Minister Greg Jones presided over the ceremony. A reception in the couple's honor was held after the ceremony.

During the second semester, another wedding took place. This time Marci Patton and Mike Clark were married. The couple went before minister Ty Lemons with maid of honor, Stephanie Smith, and best man, John Bouy, as witnesses. Mr. Chris Green gave the bride away.

This mock wedding gives the students a chance to see how expensive a wedding can really be. They also learn that even raising an imaginary family can be hard work.

Ty Lemons presides over the ceremony as maid of honor, Stephanie Smith, and others look on.

Mike Clark and Marci Patton appear nervous as they exchange their vows.

Mr. Green escorts the bride to her place at the altar.

For the first time since 1975 and only the second time in Perkins' history, the Pirate football team won the Sandusky Bay Conference, posting an 8-2 win-loss record.

Defensively, the Pirates placed senior Brian Printy at defensive end, senior Phil Johnson and junior DeMorris McDonald at tackles, and senior Todd Kreimes at a secondary spot.

The Pirate selection on offense was junior tailback Chris Kenne, and senior center Jim Gawryszewski. There were 14 players who either received honorable mention or first or second team SBC.

Most valuable lineman was Phil Johnson, and the most valuable back was Chris Kenne. Brian Printy was named all-Ohio lineman.

Todd Kreimes and Jim Gawryszewski wait patiently for the referee's decision.

Junior Tim Krough hangs on to the ball then thinks about heading to paydirt.

Senior tri-captains: Brian Printy, Todd Kreimes, and Jim Gawryszewski helped to lead the Pirates to a Sandusky Bay Conference Championship.

Senior Most Valuable lineman Phil Johnson shows his enthusiasm by running through the spirit hoop.

The 1982 Junior Varsity football season was in Coach Jeff Printy's words "a learning experience."

Although the record shows the team had a winless season, there were a few games that the Pirate gridders could have won.

Coach Printy noted that most junior varsity squads are made up of juniors and sophomores.

His junior varsity squad was made up strictly of sophomores.

Next season the team is expected to do extremely better.

'The freshmen team worked hard on fundamentals to prepare themselves for the varsity level'-Luginbill

Freshmen gridders learned a lot during the course of the year. Much of what they learned will be applied in the next three years on the varsity and junior varsity level. The initial season of high school football is very important because on the high school level. It is very different from what they had before.

Freshmen head coach Web Luginbill said, "The freshmen team worked hard on fundamentals to prepare themselves for the varsity level."

"The main goal at the freshmen level is to prepare. In the future years we will see if the hard work and dedication paid off."

The 1982 golf season was capped off with several individual high points. Senior Rob Yantz was a district qualifier for the district competition. This has not been achieved by an individual at Perkins for quite some time. Another fine individual achievement was accomplished by senior Kevin Grathwol. He was named second team SBC. This is also an award that is rare.

Besides individual achievements, the team finished with a much improved 7-9 won-loss record. This is a considerable improvement over last year's 2-13 won-loss record. There were a lot of underclassmen on the team that are really starting to improve.

Coach Frank Laudonia said, "The thing that really hurt us this year was our inability to play consistently well at home."

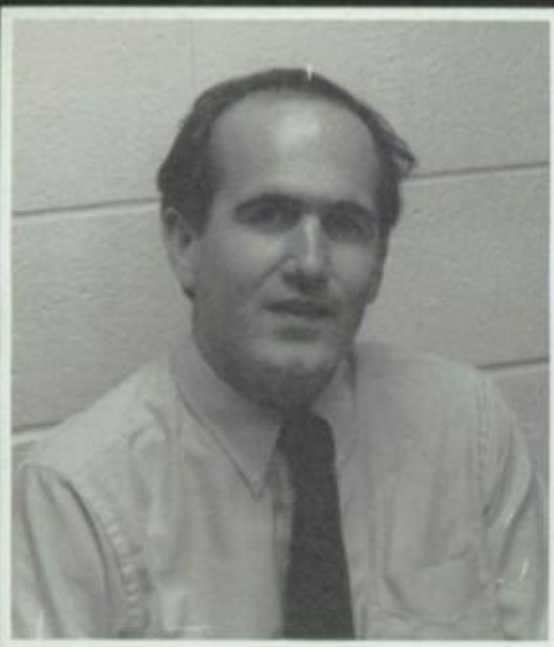

Senior Robert Yantz looks up and smiles after making a long putt.

Senior Captain Kevin Grathwol provided leadership.

Bryan Cummings relaxes with a swig of water after a long run at Mills Golf course.

"The most succesful season in the history of the team" was the way Pirate coach John Hinton explained the 1982 cross country season.

This year's Most Valuable Player was junior Brian Martin. Besides being named MVP, Martin was named to the first team SBC and was also an All-Ohio pick. Martin also placed fifth at the state meet.

Besides Martin sophmore Scott Fry and junior Andy Smith were also named to the first team SBC Fry also placed 17 in the state meet.

Senior Rob Schwiefert was named the most improved player. Along with that honor he was also named to the second team SBC along with teammate junior Pete Stengel.

Besides individual excellence the team as a whole had a very respectable season. The team won the SBC. . Pirate Cross Country coach John Hinton has led his team to the SBC crown four out of the last seven years. Besides the team winning the SBC, the team placed ninth in state competition, an excellent achievement in any standards.

The girls' tennis team coached by Joe Taylor ended the season with an overall record of 9-8 and a SBC record of 6-4.

The girls' tennis team placed second in the SBC after St. Mary's for the second year in a row.

The team consisted of five seniors, Amy Zeiher, Lisa Perdue, and Marcy Manion. Terri Moore and Cindy Williams were co-captains of the team.

Terri Moore was one of only 16 girls from this district to qualify for the state tournament. Terri has qualified for the state tournament and received the MVP award for the third year in a row.

Receiving the MIP award was Kasey Speers.

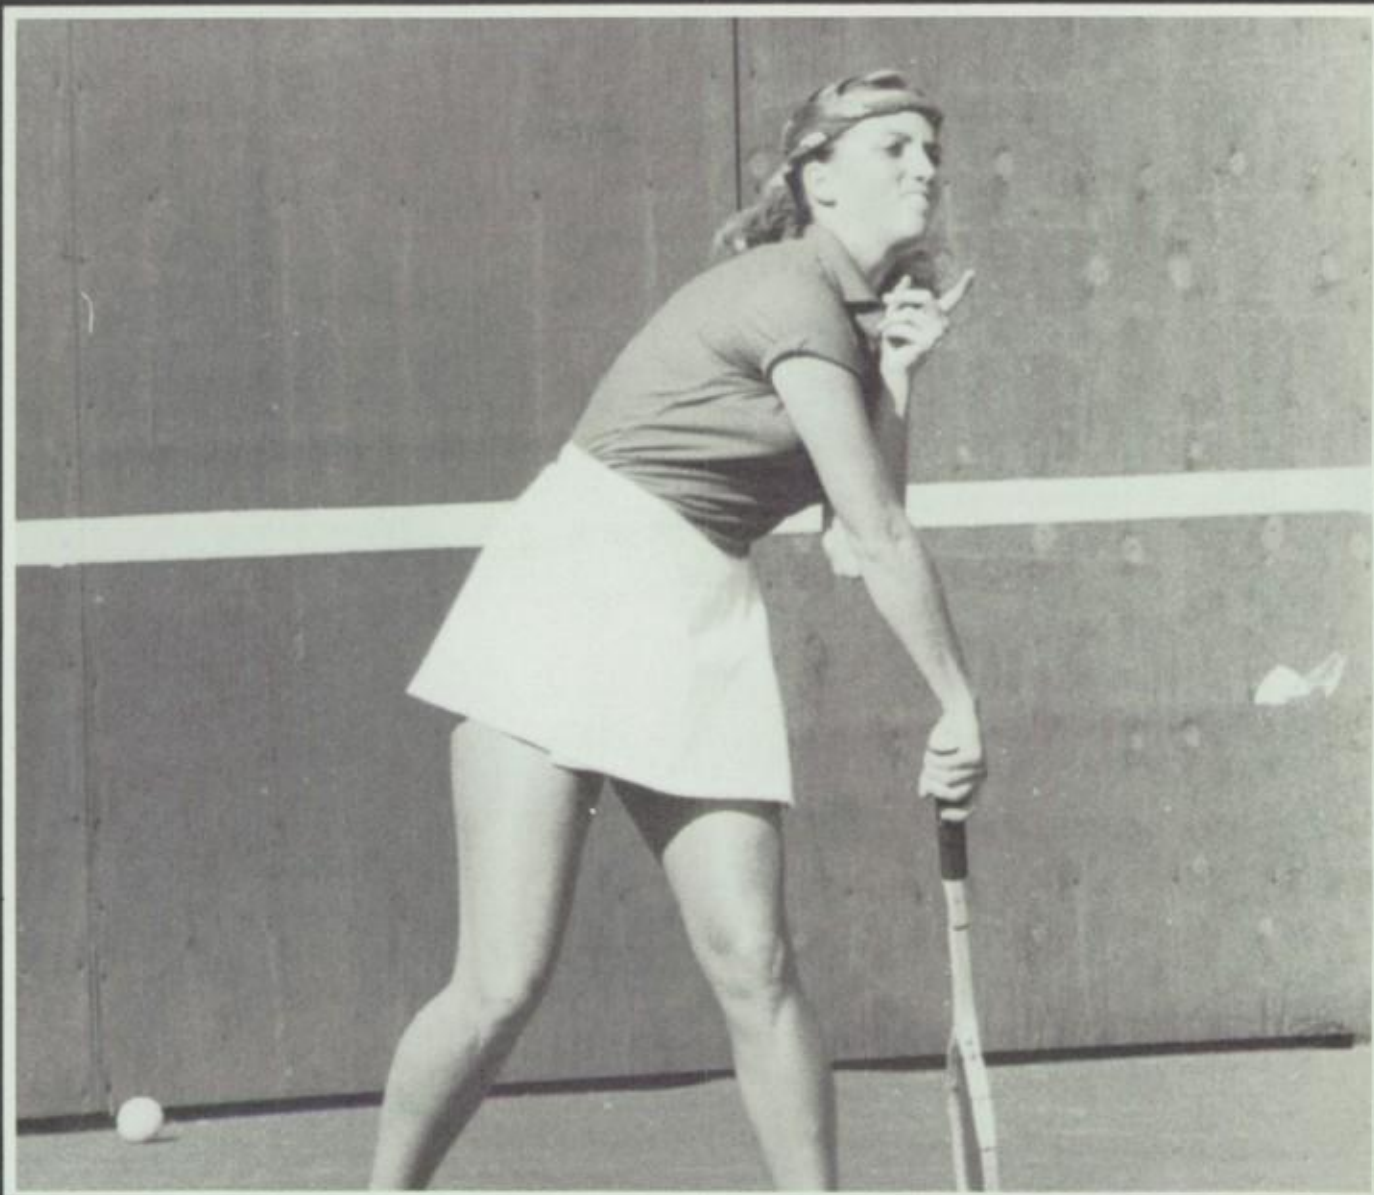

"I was pleased with this year's record as a whole," stated coach Joy Taylor.

Next year is a rebuilding year for the girls' tennis team, according to coach Taylor.

The volleyball team finished its season with a 4-13 record. The record didn't reflect the way the team performed. Also, the Margaretta game was one of the most outstanding matches of the season, according to Coach Weaver.

"Next year's volleyball team will have six returning letterman and five starters. Hopefully, next year we will do exceptionally well with the number of returning lettermen."

The team was led by co-captains Steph Smith and Beth Matthias.

Steph Smith received the MVP award for the third year, and the MIP award went to Jill Grawthwol.

Second place SBC finish

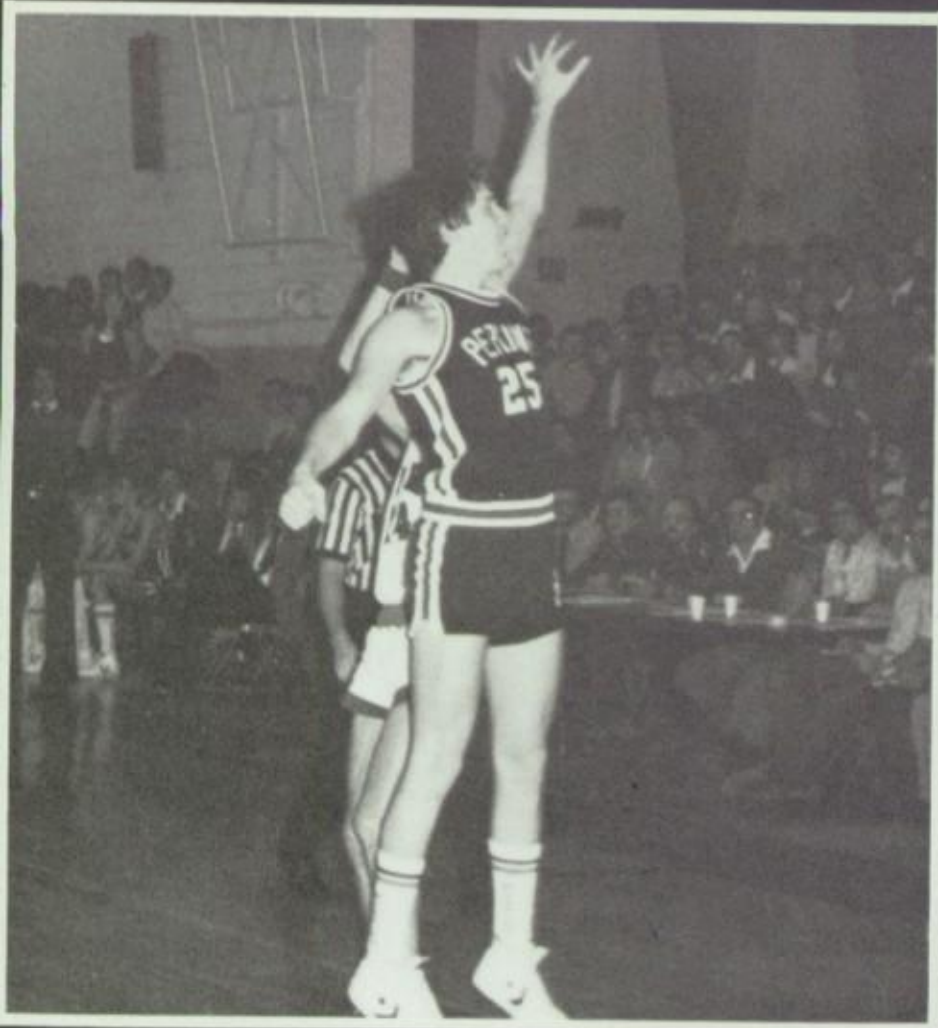

'An 11-3 SBC record is very respectable'—Schlessman

The 1982-83 basketball season was in Coach Schlessman's words, "An 11-3 record in the SBC is very respectable. However, we were disappointed with our second place finish." The team should have a lot to look forward to next season as two of their leading scorers, Ken Nixon and Mark Speer will return next year. Mark Speer, along with leading the team in points scored and rebounds, was also picked to the first team SBC as well as second team all-district. There were three players who earned honorable mention in the SBC. They were Mike Coleman, Brian Printy and Larry Roman. For the team awards both went to juniors as Ken Nixon picked up the Most Improved and Mark Speer received Most Valuable. This year the captain leadership was held by Mike Coleman, Tim Lynn, Chris Groover, and Brian Printy.

Junior Mark Speer starts the game off well by winning the tip-off.

Coach Chris Green was happy with his '82-'83 boys' jayvee basketball squad even though they did not repeat last year's 19-1 mark.

Though he felt they lacked offensively at times, the defense was astounding giving up only 37 points per game.

According to Green, the team was very well balanced and everyone played an important part in the 13-5 overall and 10-4 SBC runner-up finish.

Several exciting games resulted in unpredictable finishes, but one stands most vivid in Green's mind.

"Andy Smith's last second shot at the buzzer against Sandusky was the most memorable and exciting since we won, and Sandusky was undefeated at the time," he concluded.

Freshman Basketball Coach Jim Patton's main objective for the 1982-83 basketball season was to come out with a winning season; however, the team finished with a 5-10 win-loss record. Even though the team did not achieve this, they improved greatly over the second half of the season. Coach Patton added, "The team learned much in the realms of fundamentals that will really pay off for these young men in the future."

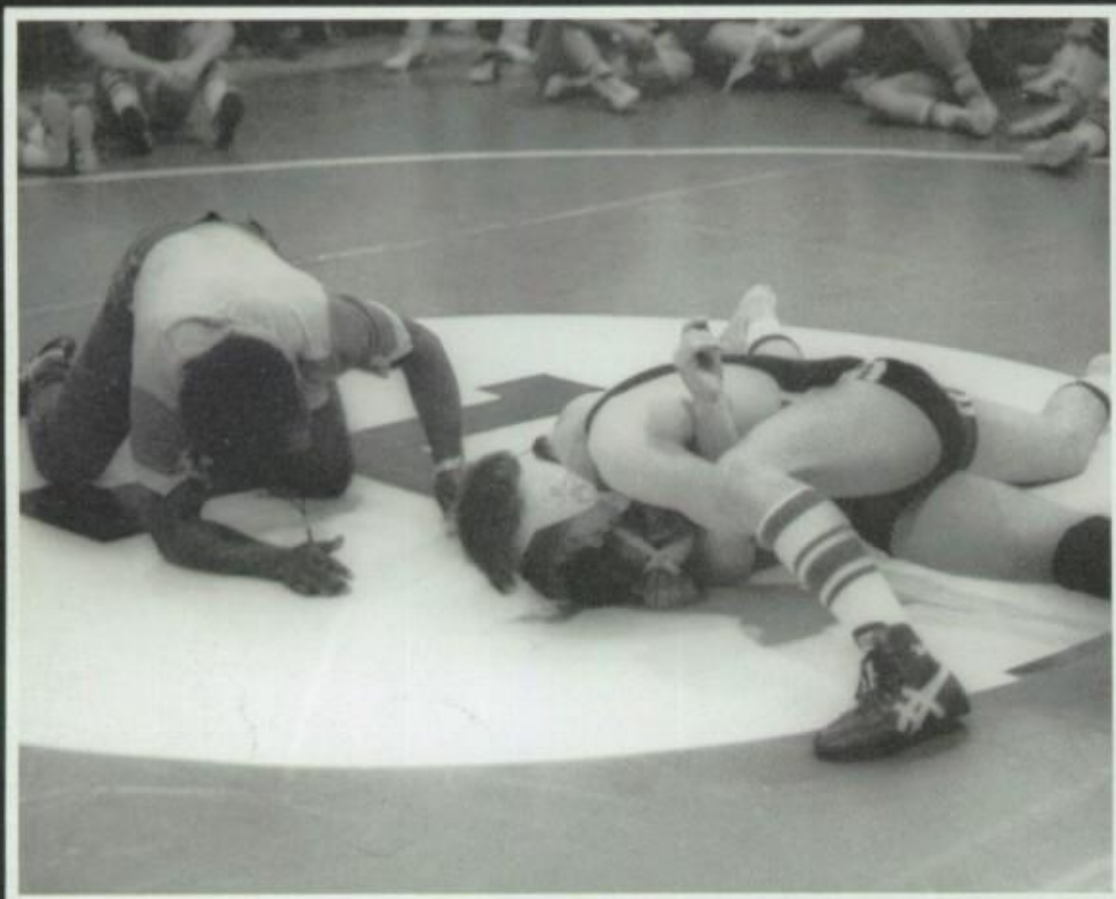

The basketball tradition is steadily growing at Perkins, and with the young talent coming up in the future, it seems that the basketball tradition will remain here at Perkins High School.

WON 9, LOST 11

This year's girls' basketball team coached by Jim Hauser and assistant coach Gary Piper ended its season with an overall record of 9-11 and an SBC record of 7-7.

Honorable mention in the SBC went to three of the top seven players-Molly Retzke, Jill Grathwol, and Mary Ann Summers. Most Valuable and Most Improved went to Mary Ann Summers and Molly Retzke respectively.

"This year was a disappointing but encouraging season. The SBC was the strongest ever and with a 7-7 record. It will be a good springboard for next year." Coach Hauser is also looking for a big improvement next year with six of the top seven players returning.

Mary Ann Summers shows her athletic ability while Molly Retzke anxiously looks on.

Perkins High School has added a new sport for girls. Coached by Bob McIntyre, the girls' softball team ended its season with a record of 3-12 overall and a S.B.C. record of 1-6.

"For a first year team, I was pleased with the success we had during the season. Although we only won three games, we improved tremendously over the season, especially at bat," stated Coach McIntyre.

No individual performances were pointed out because the team progressed as a whole throughout the season.

Receiving the MVP and MIP awards were Corinna Wechter and Sally Baum.

"Our team was inexperienced, and it showed up in our early games," said Coach Mehling after his 1983 baseball team closed out the season with a 9-11 record.

Mehling stated that this year's team had six lettermen, of which only three played regularly last year.

He felt as the season progressed, the team played much better baseball; and the team made it to the sectional final for the second year in a row.

Three main pitchers split mound duties after getting off to a shaky start. They were Chris Groover, senior, Ken Nixon, junior, and Rick Redmon, sophomore.

Mark Stair, Ken Nixon, Larry Roman and Jim Gawryszewski all had fine seasons at bat, all batting above .300.

MVP and MIP were Ken Nixon and Jason Crawford while Randy James won the Freytag award.

This year's boys' tennis team coached by Joe Taylor finished their season with an overall record of 18-2 and a record of 13-0 in the S.B.C. Coach Taylor was pleased with several players this year: Doug Linden, Joe Brown, Greg Cook, and Jeff Stevens all greatly improved over last year. The 5-0 victory over Tiffin Calvert was one of the best team efforts by the Pirate netters.

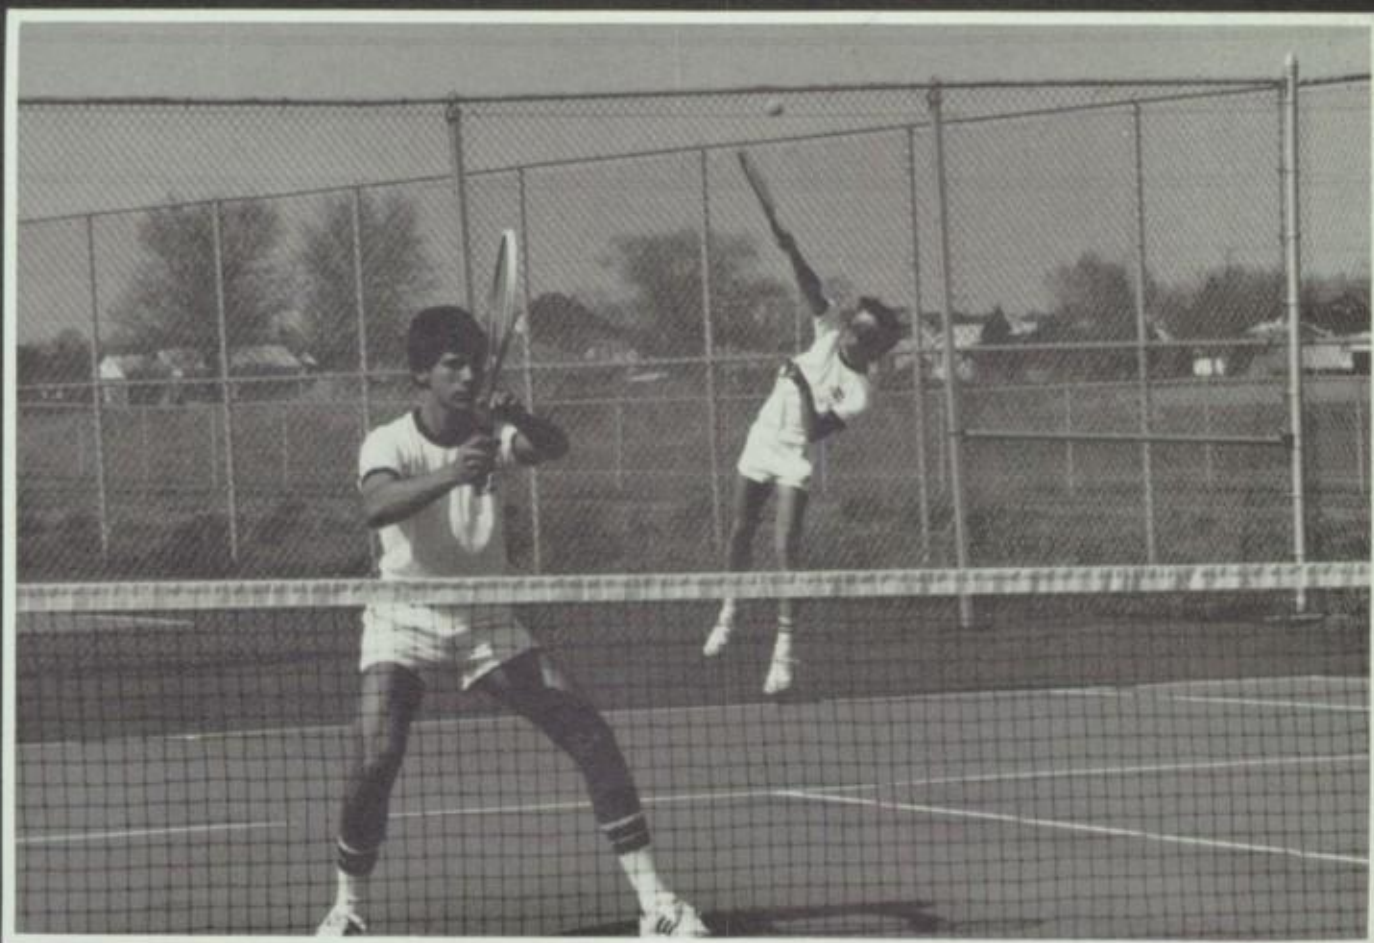

"Next year there will be six returning letterman, and I feel the team will be strong but maybe not as strong from top to bottom as this year's team," says Coach Taylor.

Receiving the MVP award was Doug Linden and receiving the MIP award was Greg Cook.

You can tell by the look on Doug Linden's face that tennis is not an easy sport.

Steve Stockdale serves the ball as Greg Cook skillfully awaits the opponent's return.

Bert Dwelle is the picture of perfection as he successfully jumps over the bar.

Brian Martin runs with determination the 800 meter.

Unckrich, Kreimes and Printy take five between enents.

Tony Green, Brian Printy, and Mark Speer all lead the Pirates in the 110 meter high hurdles.

Paul McCutcheon keeps on running as he heads for the tape.

This year's boys' track team coached by Jim Hauser, was undoubtedly the best we have ever had at Perkins. Greg Butler, Todd Kreimes and Brian Printy were elected tri-captains of the team which won the following: Toledo Whitmer Golden "W" Meet, Margaretta Invitational, Oak Harbor Invitational, Bellevue Invitational, our own Pirate Relays, and the Sandusky Bay Conference. This is also the third straight year that the team had gone undefeated in dual meets, having a record of 10 wins and no losses. The team now has a consecutive winning streak of 38 dual meets without a loss.

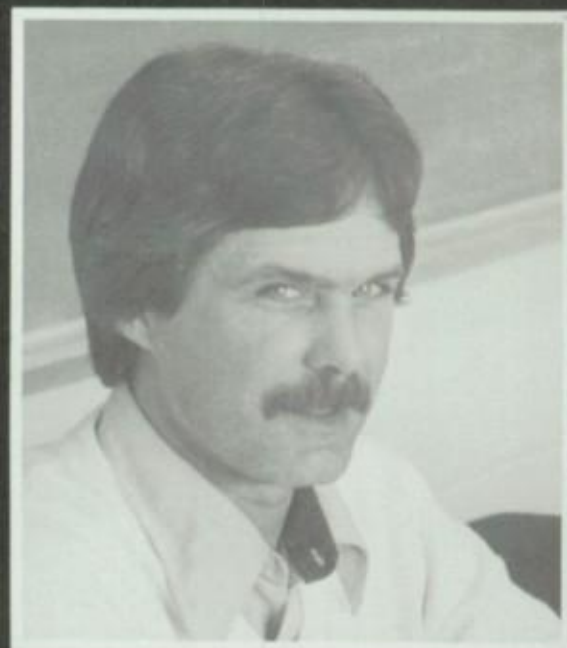

"This team has been a joy to be associated with. They are all dedicated athletes whom the people of Perkins can be proud of. The leadership and coaching of Mr. Hinton certainly has had a profound impact upon our team." Receiving the MVP and MIP awards were John Bouy and Scott Fry respectively.

Jill Grawthwol and Karen Stewart give it their all.

Laura Kearney and Penny Rupp were the 1982-83 girls' track captains.

The girls' track team coached by Chris Green finished their season with a 9-2 record on dual meets. The girls' team took first place in the Margaretta Invationals for the fourth consecutive year, and also took first placed in the Pirate Relays for the fifth consecutive year. They also won their 3rd straight S.B.C. championship.

"The seniors had a great deal to do with our success - Penny Rupp, Laura Kearney, Julie Ruutsong, and Karen Stewart - and they will all be greatly missed," stated Coach Green.

Next year there will be thirty underclassman returning. Coach Green is very optimistic about the future and keeping Perkins at the top in track is his top goal.

Receiving the MVP and MIP awards were April Klinger and Amy Eddy respectively.

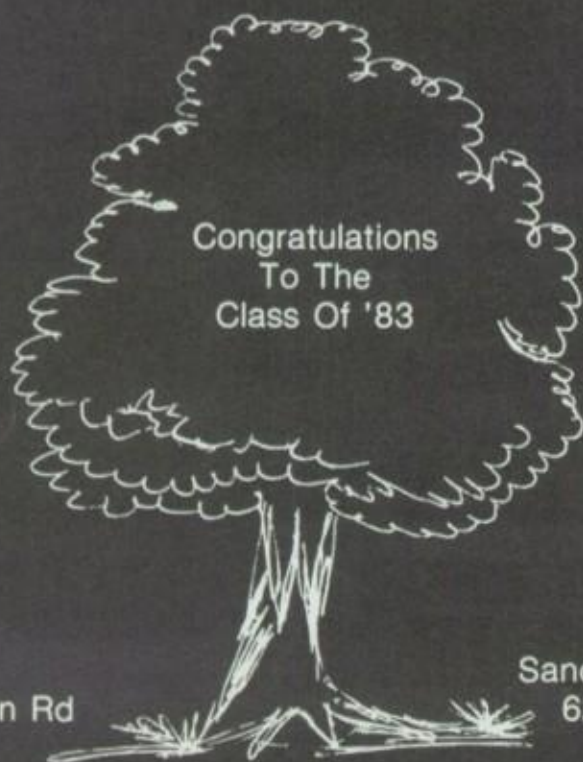

Tara Rollison breaks the tape after a tough race against Clyde.

Mr. Shoff, Mr. Pitts, sit with the Pirate mascot.

The 1982 school year has brought some changes to the same old routine of Homecoming. This year the Pirates have a mascot. The mascot was portrayed by Shellie Dehn. The dance was also changed. Instead of formal, it was casual; this made for a better turn-out than in past years.

The theme this year was nautical and the seniors won the float contest with the float that read "Make the Panthers Walk the Plank". Our 1982 Homecoming Queen was Shelly Ross. She has been an attendant since her sophomore year. Her escort was Todd Micheal, he was a past escort.

The Pirates sailed away with a 34-6 win over the St. Mary's Panthers.

SPLASH! Spirit hits Perkins

Julie Routsong, Marilyn Sample, and Carla Martinez are jumping for a victory.

Upholding Homecoming tradition, DeMorris McDonald runs through the hoop.

The Pirettes strut their stuff at a football game on Friday night.

Kim Toft, a reserve cheerleader, rings the victory bell after a touchdown.

Senior cheerleader, Amy Anderson, cheers for a victory.

Punk-day hit big at Perkins. Can't you tell?

When we think of school spirit, who do we think of first? The cheerleaders, right?

Well, that's true, but the cheerleaders aren't the only ones who give spunk to PHS. Why don't we think of those fantastic Pirettes, or the new addition of spirit to Perkins, the mascot?

The cheerleaders do a wonderful job, and they get that rowdie crowd cheering right along with them.

The Pirettes dance their way into everyone's heart.

SO LETS HEAR IT FOR PERKINS HIGH !

Senior Greg Butler gives the game ball to Shelly Ross.

Missy Davis punked-out on punk day.

Fall play, Aqua-Tones, musical

Conrad Birdie (Randy Westgate) sings while Doug Waterfeild plays the guitar.

FATHER KNOWS BEST, a play about an ordinary, everyday family with a lot of problems, was put on in the high school auditorium on Nov. 19 and 20. For the family of Jim Anderson and Margret Anderson (Randy Westgate and Julie Tibboles) nothing else can go wrong.

ON TOUR, the show put on by the Aqua-Tones, contained some hit songs and some very good numbers. Solos were by senior Nancy Hesse and junior Amy Smith. Advisors were Mrs. S. Shencavitz and Mrs. B. Gaydos. The show was put on Dec. 3 and 4.

BYE BYE BIRDIE, the musical, which was a take off of Elvis Presley, was shown March 25, 26, and 27 in the PHS Auditorium. The star of the musical was Conrad Birdie (Randy Westgate). The whole event was a fun-filled occasion.

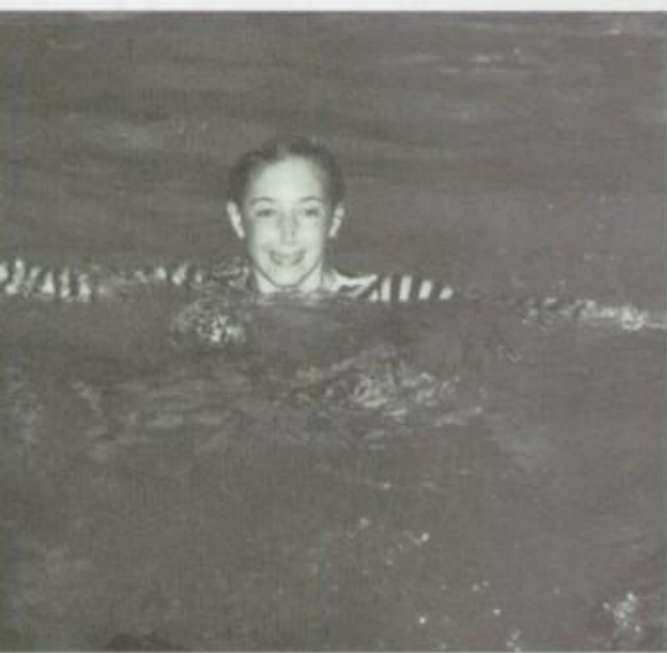

In Father Knows Best, Jim Anderson (Randy Westgate) jumps for joy after hearing some good news.

Jean Glossa and Diane Blackwood are "Just a Swinging".

Joanna Elliott and Chad Royal seem to enjoy themselves as they "get close".

Julie Long jams to "Super Freak" in the Aqua-Tone show. Hit it Julie!

As she swims for the Aqua-Tone show, Julie Long seems to enjoy herself.

Johnny Bossart gets radical as he plays his part well in "Father Knows Best."

Lisa Souter, Shelly Kautz, and Missy Davis jam to the music at the Homecoming Dance. Jeff West and date Jennifer Dehn sit together and watch the festivities as the night rolls on. Caught by the camera Bryon Petersen and date Angie DeMore really get into the dance.

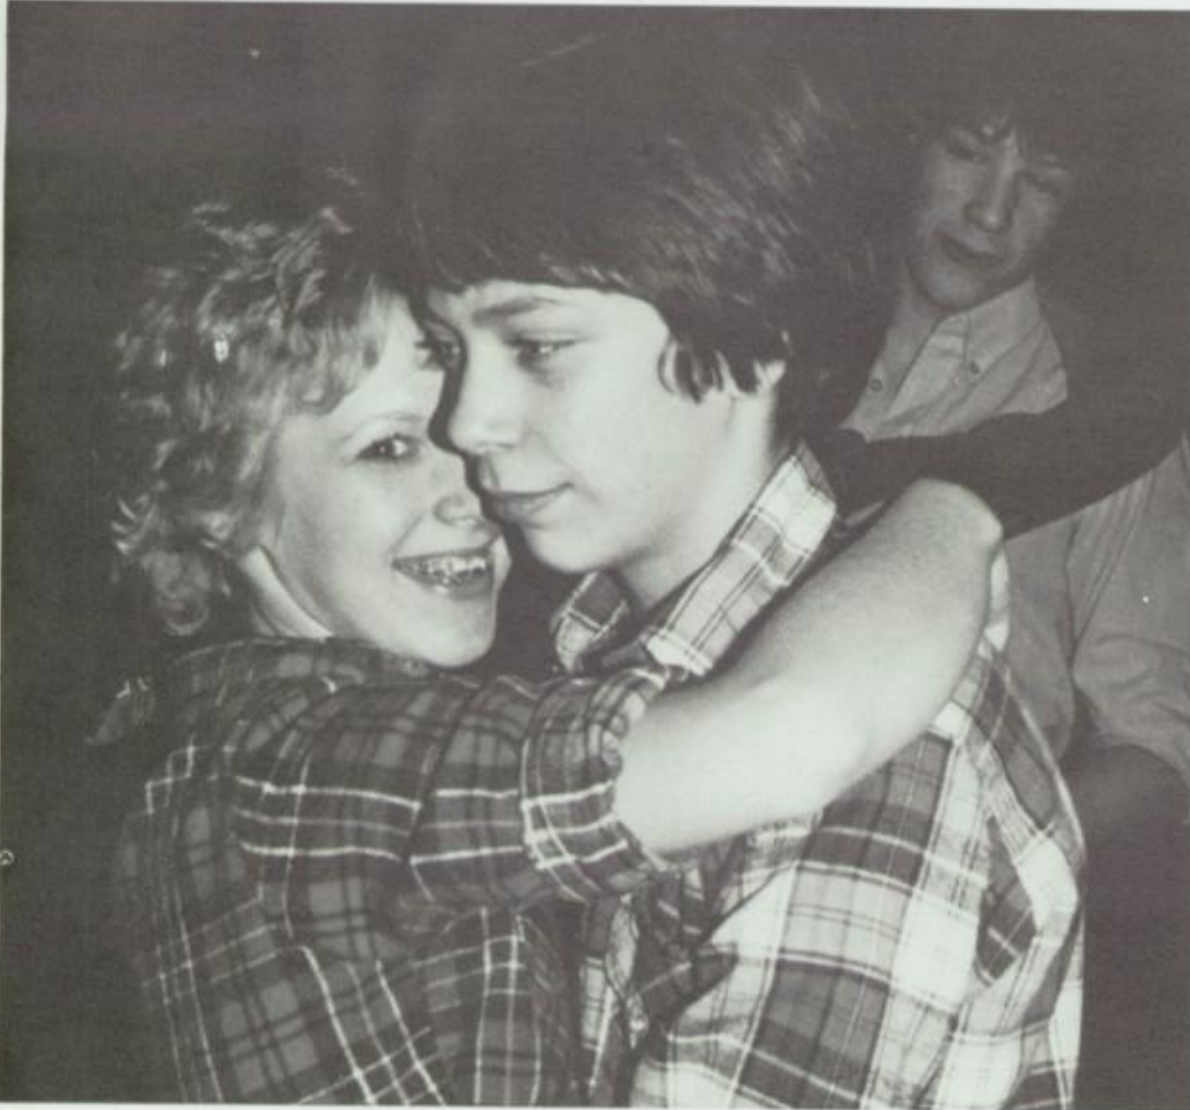

Linda Davis and date Jess Adams dance to the music.

Freshmen Jeff Todi and Missy Shartzer share a "close" dance at Sadie Hawkins.

Seniors Lisa Perdue and Todd Kneimes have a chance to sneak in a quiet slow dance.

As the gang assembles, the fun begins. Ask Chris Smith and Christy Hufnagle.

Everyone joins in the fun and dancing as the gym starts to fill up.

The Homecoming and Sadie Hawkins Dances were the school's biggest dances. Both dances were well attended.

The Homecoming Dance was changed a little bit this year. For the first time ever, the Homecoming Dance was casual. The music was provided by J.B. Sound, and refreshments were also served.

The Sadie Hawkins Dance was just as rowdie and fun as always. Miss Schuman and Mr. Mehling married the couples. Actual rings were used this year also. The music was provided by J.B. Sound. Refreshments were also sold.

Diane and Tami Blackwood boogie together at the prom while Ken Trimarche and Kim Nixon dance too.

Kris Plummer and date Mike Hermes have a laugh over some dinner.

Tammy Menchofer, Julie Long, and Stacey Lowery look very enthusiastic.

Phil Keys and his date enjoy their dinner.

The 1983 Junior-Senior Prom was a big success this year as it was in the years before. It was held in the Crystal Room at the Sandusky Plaza on Saturday night, May 14. The theme of this year's prom was "Just You and I". Dinner was served at 7 p.m. and The Target Band played. The prom lasted from 7 p.m. until 11 p.m.

The junior class was in charge of the prom, and they did an excellent job.

Prom pictures were taken by Jay Photography.

Mr. Echelberger and his wife have a good time dancing.

Students are announced as they enter the Crystal Room.

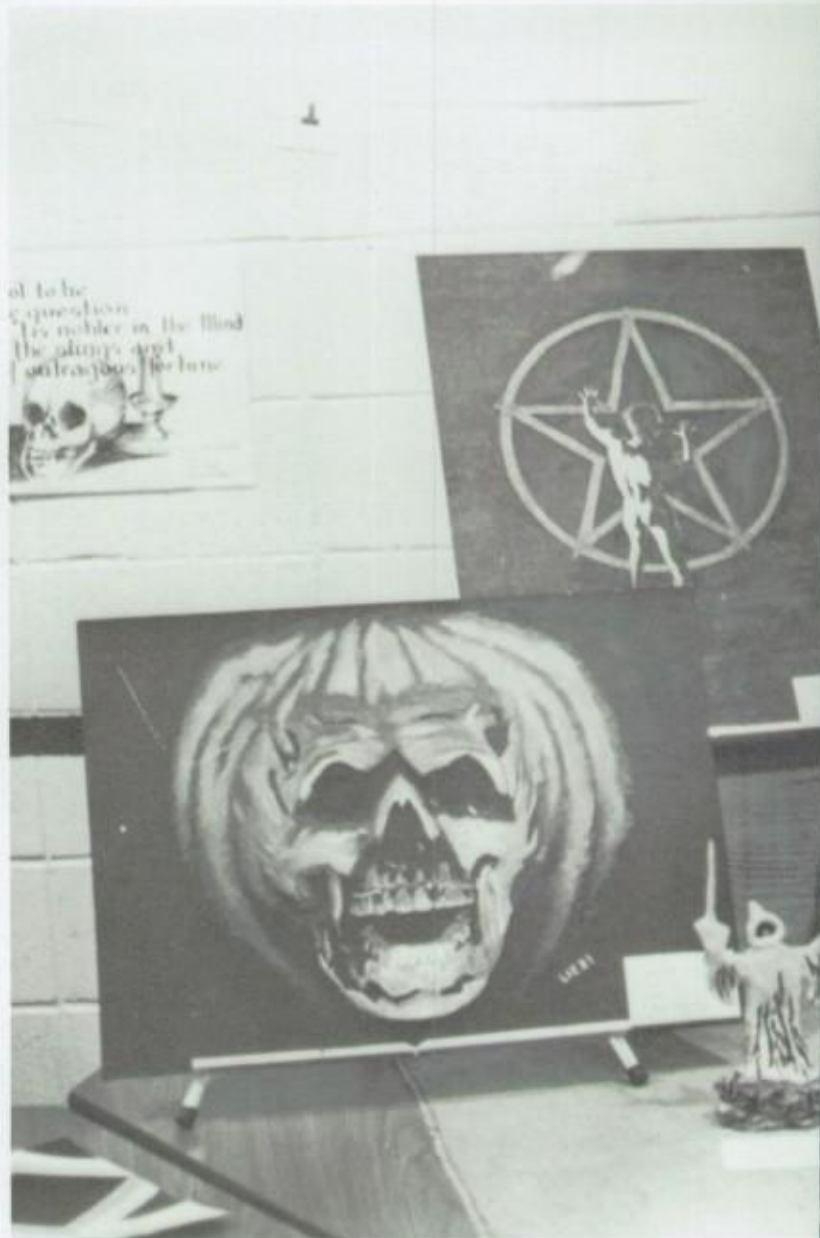

Music, art alive at PHS

Jennifer Cuthbertson's self portrait was exhibited at the spring art show.

The choir sings as Mr. Fischer directs them.

A two-story model house was also shown during the Fine Arts Festival.

Many different paintings done by different students were on display.

Stuffed animals from taxidermy class are being displayed.

Harmony performs a number for the audience.

The Fine Arts Festival was held in April at the Perkins High School auxiliary gym. The band, choir and Harmony performed and there were many art projects displayed.

The displays ranged from stuffed animals from taxidermy to paintings and model houses. There were a wide variety of artworks.

The Middle School choir gave performances during the day and night, and the grade schools performed during the day.

Mr. Lavy directs the band during a song at the festival.

A new jazz group performs for the first time.

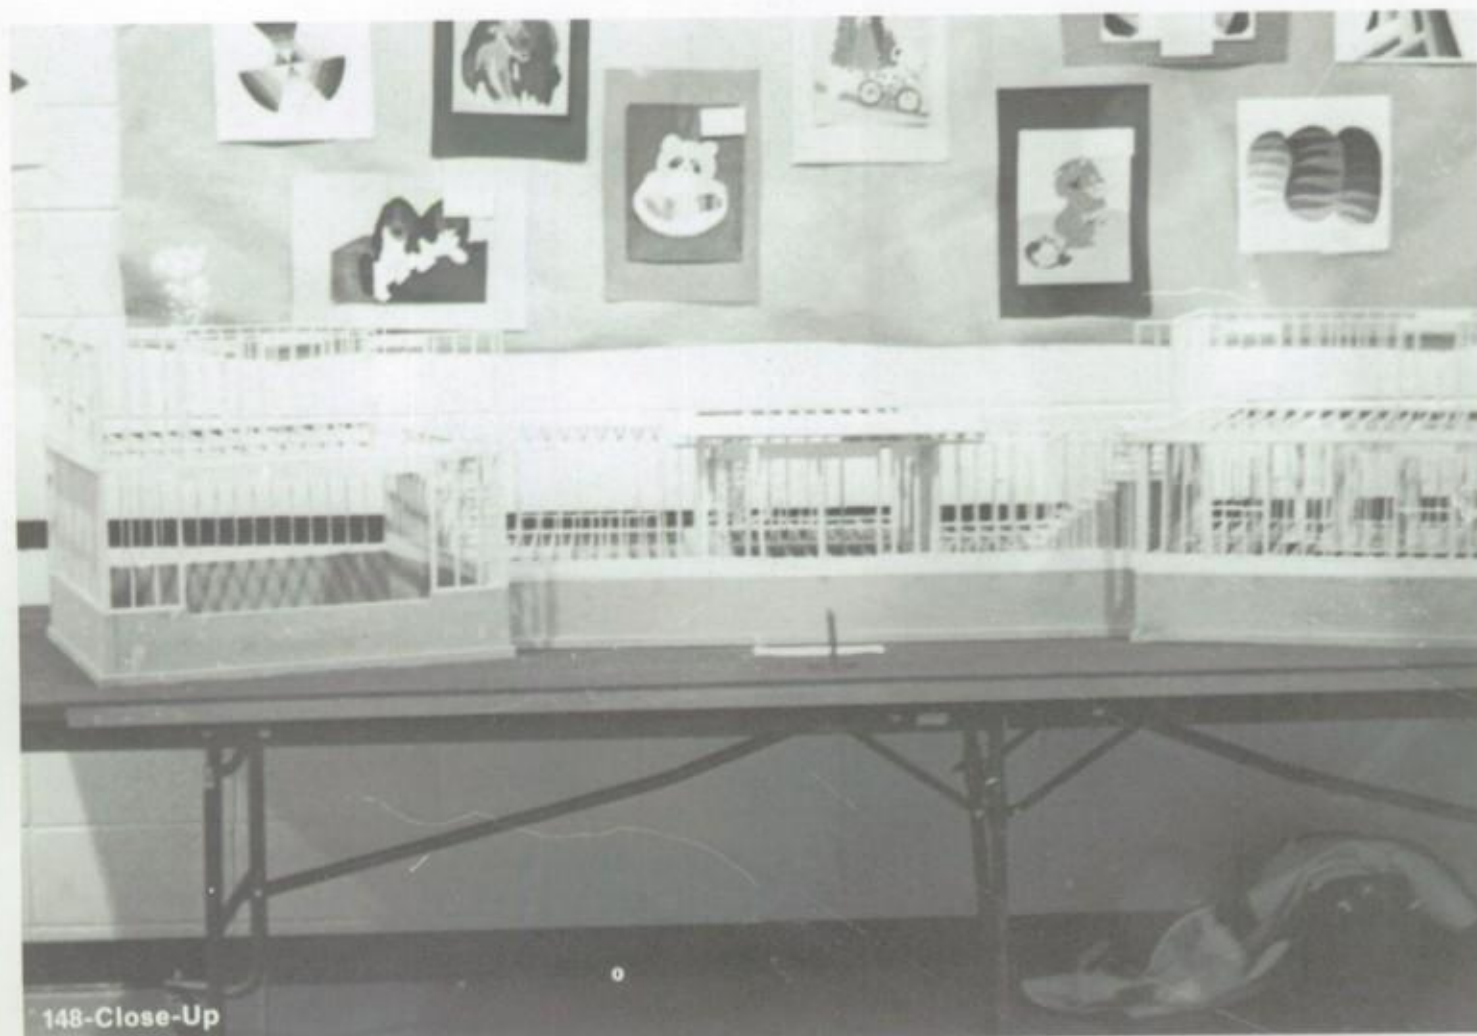

Paintings, basketweaving, and macrame are only some of the works of art at the show.

This model house was one of the many model houses displayed.

Scott Streng gets down on the trumpet during the Fine Arts Festival.

Stuffed birds are also part of the art display.

LOG, QUADRANT, VOYAGER

Journalism IV students Tammy Wadding and Karen Stewart sort out pictures for the Quadrant.

Marcy Manion designs a page while classmate Jennifer Cuthbertson watches.

The Journalism I class produced an eight page magazine style newspaper called The Voyager. It consists mostly of feature articles. Mrs. Souter plans to continue publication of The Voyager.

The Log is published eight times a year, it is made by Journalism II, and III, and is distributed free of charge. It consists mostly of school news.

The yearbook, The Quadrant, is printed the summer after the year is over. It is made by Journalism IV.

All three publications have been excellent thanks to the help of the advisor Mrs. Souter.

Stan Gilbert works on writing an article for the Log.

Becky Berberick takes a little laugh break while typing.

NHS president, Greg Cook, gives a welcome speech to the school as adviser, Mrs. Hancy, listens.

The Firelands Challenge team of Rich Schuster, Eric Alafita, Mark Nielsen, Doug Waterfield, Rick Smith, Kim Mushett, Chris Smith and Stacey Lowrey won top honors in this year's competition. The group, advised by Mr. Muffler, beat area schools by a convincing margin and brought a $1500 first prize to PHS. They also competed on the Academic Challenge television show.

The highlight of this year's National Honor Society tapping ceremony was the introduction of the "Teacher of the Year" award. Mr. Richard Roesch, head of the Literary Arts Department, was the recipient of this award. Along with the award, the senior members inducted new members into the society.

Participation-learning

Students at PHS active in government

Kim Mushett participates in the mock session at Columbus.

Students learn first hand how government works.

Student government plays a big part in high school. There are many ways for students to participate in government.

One way is to join the YMCA sponsored Youth in Government program. Students in this program learn about state government by assuming legislative roles and participating in a student-run mock session in Columbus.

Annually students are selected to participate in Buckeye Boys' and Girls' State. The representatives spend a week during the summer participating in mock government.

At PHS the governing body is the Student Council which is made up of class representatives who plan activities for the school. They are in charge of all Homecoming activities, community service projects, the student book store and any activities requested by the administration.

Doug Burger gives blood willingly at the Student Council bloodmobile.

Boys' State reps are S. Moultrie, B. Arndt, P. Stengel, E. Alafita, and A. Nielsen.

Girls' State reps are S. Lichtcsien, C. Carrier, K. Schuster and P. Archer.

Pam Harris and Lisa Homegardner sell carnations for Student Council.

Jenny Rist was part of the group that traveled to Columbus.

CBBS celebrates Black History Week

CBBS celebrated Black History Week during the week of February 21. Alex Shumate, a 1967 graduate of Sandusky High School, gave the keynote address. He has worked as a top assistant in the State Attorney General's Office. Mr. Shumate, who was valedictorian of his senior class, spoke of the importance of setting goals and carrying them out.

CBBS members performed singing and dancing routines. Ty Lemons was master of ceremonies.

Junior, Morna Rollison, smiles after being crowned queen. Senior Mike Coleman is her escort.

Senior, Phil Keys, escorts Junior Terry Payton, who was also running for 1983 queen.

Speaker, Alex Shumate, congratulated the queen, Morna Rollison, with a kiss on the cheek.

Sisterly love shows as 1982 queen, Tara Rollison, hands the flowers to 1983 queen, Morna Rollison.

Senior, Tony Gowdy, escorts sophomore, Robin Jones, during the assembly.

Senior, Greg Keys, escorts Junior, Liz Jackson, who also ran for 1983 Queen.

Teresa Walker, who ran for queen, also danced. Her escort was Tracy Doster.

As master of ceremonies, Ty Lemons also had a role in the assembly.

A break for excitement

Assemblies exciting? You bet!

There were a variety of assemblies at Perkins High this year. Among them were pep rallies, a faculty vs student basketball game, and a slave auction. All the pep rallies were held in the auditorium and the slave auction and sport assemblies were held in the gymnasium.

The students along with the faculty had a lot of fun joining in on the festivities.

In the faculty vs student basketball game, the star faculty members played against the star students. The whole game was a riot. The faculty came out winners.

Mr. Schlessman and Mr. Patton jump for the ball at the faculty-student basketball game.

Top center: Coach Schlessmand dribbles down the court at the faculty-student basketball game.

"Come on, guys, I'm worth more than that," says Jill Grathwol as Mr. Hauser and Mrs. Smith auction her off.

"I can't believe that's all I'm worth," says Joe Sammarco as he too gets auctioned off.

Liz Ferrell, Marci Patton and Kim Toft provide spirit at a pep rally.

The varsity football team lines up as the school cheers them on to get a victory.

Mark Speer and Marci Patton are sold together by Mr. Hauser and Mr. Smith.

Coach Green passes the ball to Mr. Patton as Penny Rupp tries to intercept.

Administration helps students to learn

Behind the scenes of Perkins Schools, are many people who work together to insure that the students get the best education possible.

The Board of Education is in charge of the Perkins School System. The Board sets policies and puts trust in the superintendent to carry out those policies.

Superintendent Harold Butcher was in charge of carrying out the policies of the Board. Mr. Harold Johnson and Mr. William Haggerty were the curriculum director and treasurer of the Board respectively. Together they worked to make a sensational year for the students at PHS.

Mr. Richard Norman, athletic director, along with Mr. Robert Stephenson, assistant, seceduled all athletic events for the year.

Dr. John Cook, Dr. James Printy, Mrs. Ann Voight, Mr. James Freyberg, and Mr. Keith Stierhoff are all members of the Board of Education.

Mr. Hinton gets many phone calls throughout the day concerning students.

Mrs. Studer is hard at work filling out many papers each day.

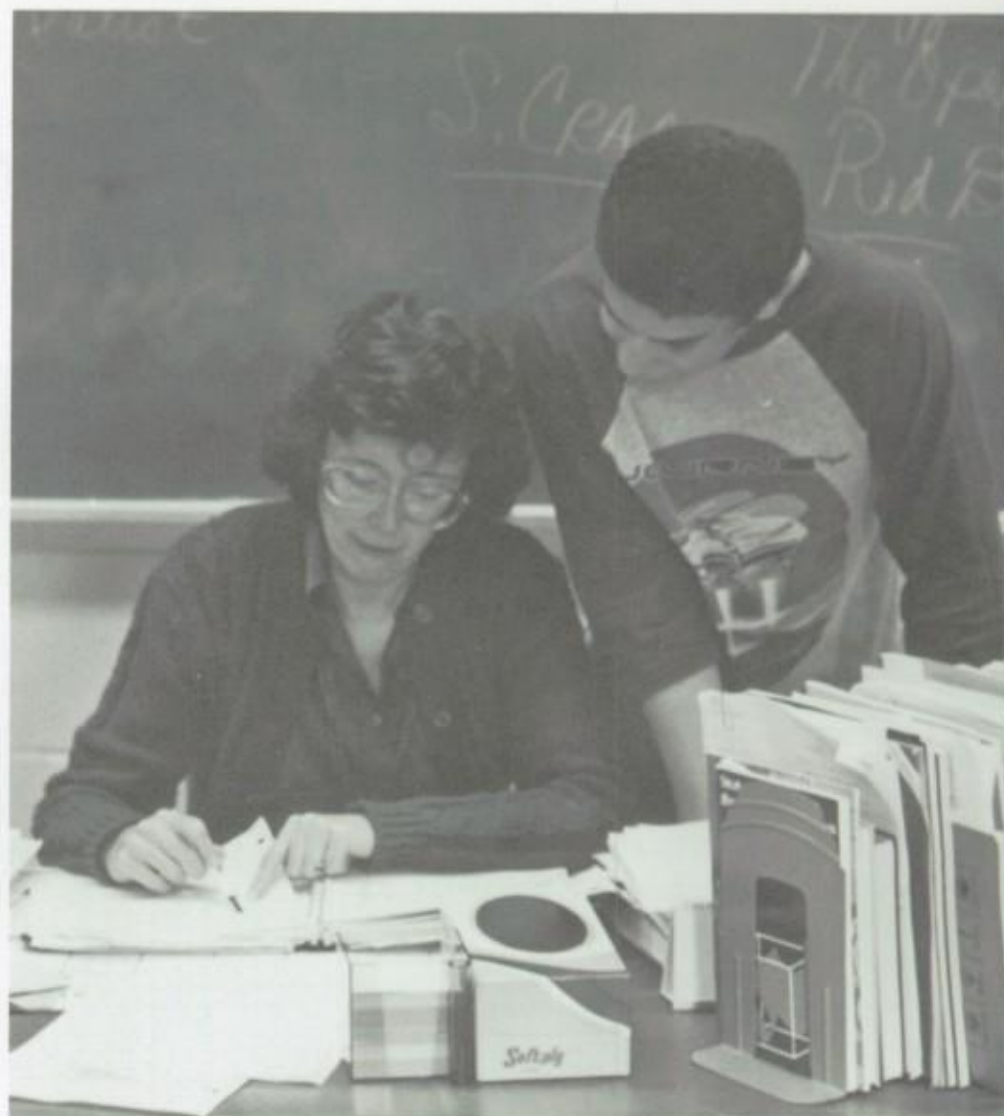

Mr. Chris Green
Mrs. Marian Hancy

Mr. Cletus Kaufman
Mr. Richard Roesch

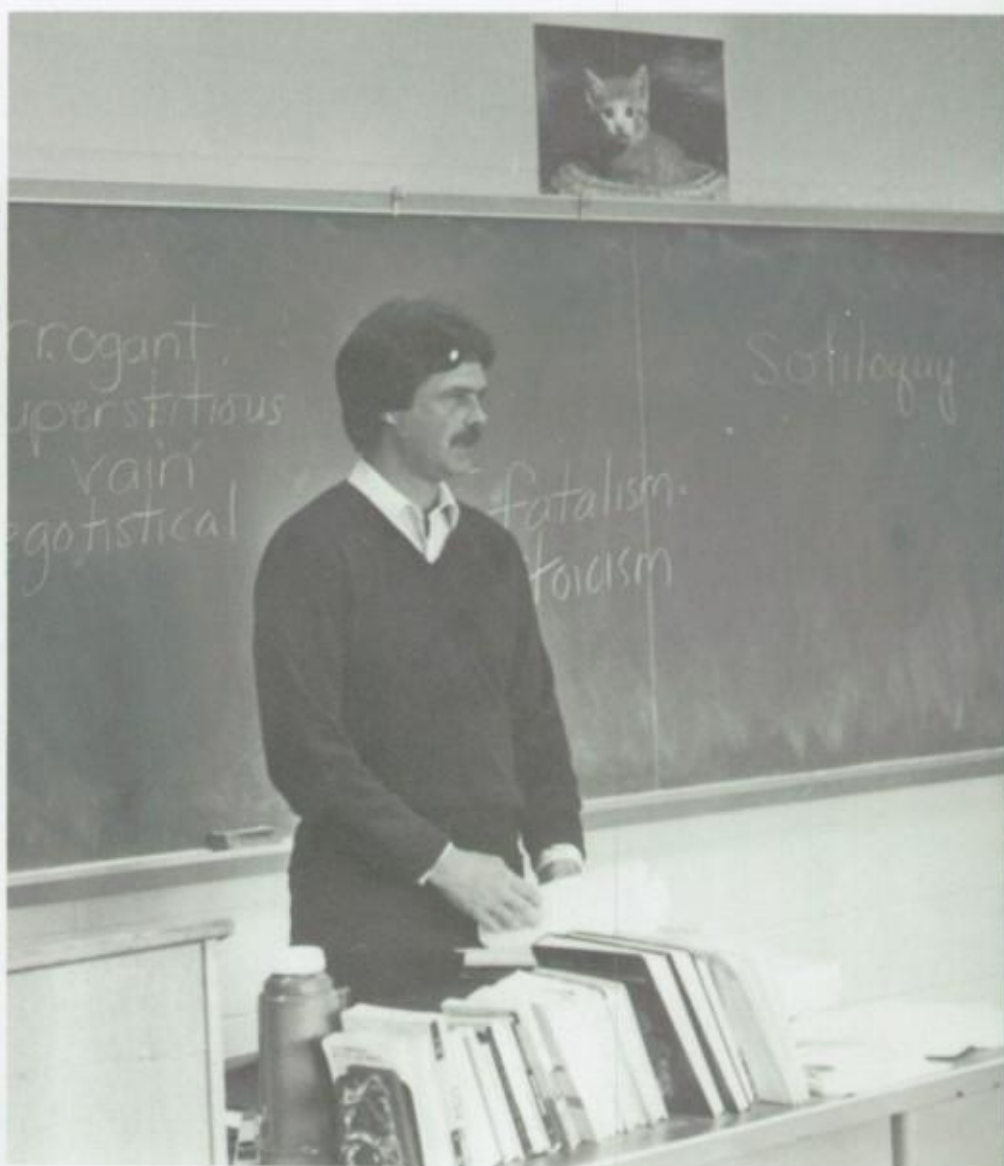

Mrs. Lois Souter
Mrs. Vicki VanNess

Mrs. Hancy helps Pete Koszalkowski with grammar.

Mr. Roesch emphasizes a point while teaching English.

Mr. Green lectures about American Literature.

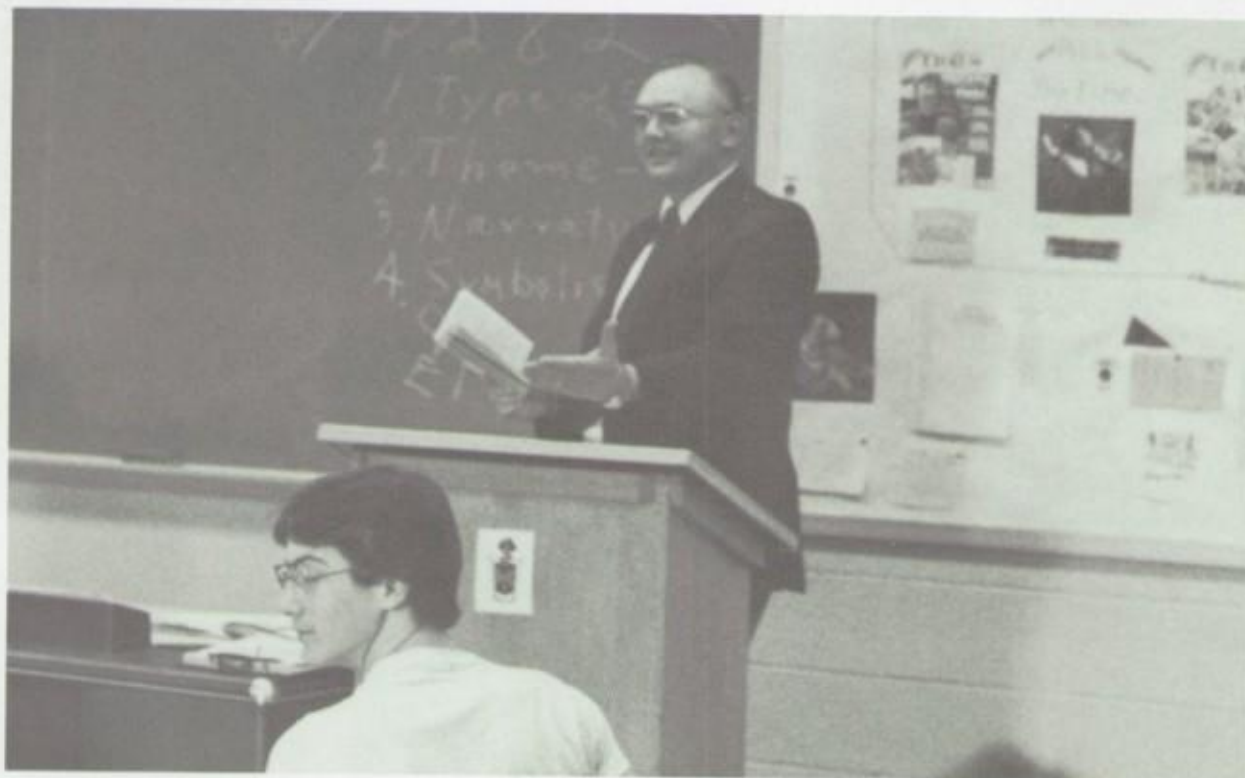

English Department teaches communications

Mr. Kaufman is teaching English I.

Mr. Richard Roesch headed the Language Arts Department again this year. The English Department offers a variety of classes. They are English I, II, III, IV, Creative Writing, speech, Journalism I, II, III, IV, and a communications laboratory.

For the first year, the Journalism I classes published their own paper called The Voyager. The Journalism II, and III classes publish the school newspaper, The Pirates' Log, while Journalism IV spends the whole year working on the Quadrant.

This year the speech classes took a field trip to a radio station to observe the making of a daily radio program.

Mrs. Souter gives Sid Marti some tips on his story for journalism.

Mrs. Van Ness helps Mark Nielsen with a speech.

Mr. Web Luginbill
Miss Janet Martin
Mr. Paul Murschel

Mr. Gary Piper
Mr. Joe Taylor

Mr. Murschel helps with a computer program.

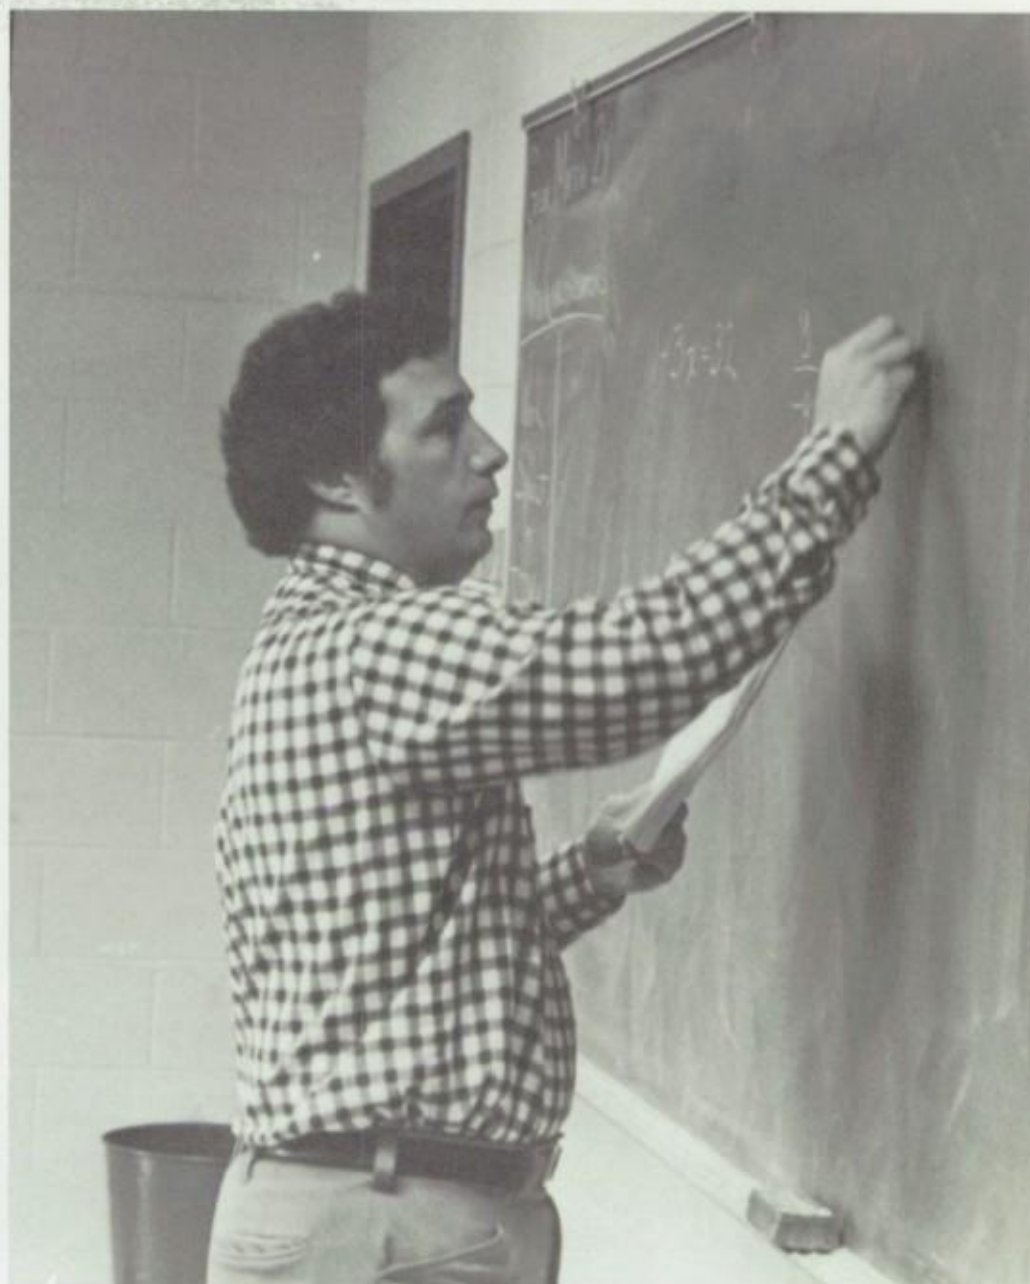

Mr. Luginbill goes over homework in one of his algebra classes.

Mr. Piper checks to see if everyone has his homework done.

Mr. Taylor works out problems for his freshmen.

Mr. Piper does homework on the board for his algebra students.

Computers make way into PHS

Miss Martin helps Tony Caponi and Frank Kidd with a question.

The math department was headed by Mr. Joe Taylor again this year. The courses that were offered are general math, algebra, geometry, trigonometry, and computer courses.

This year the math classes got to do some work with computers in the individual classes. This year, for the first time, the senior class poll was put into the computer where it was added up; and the results were printed on paper. Mr. Murschel also keeps the attendance on the computer.

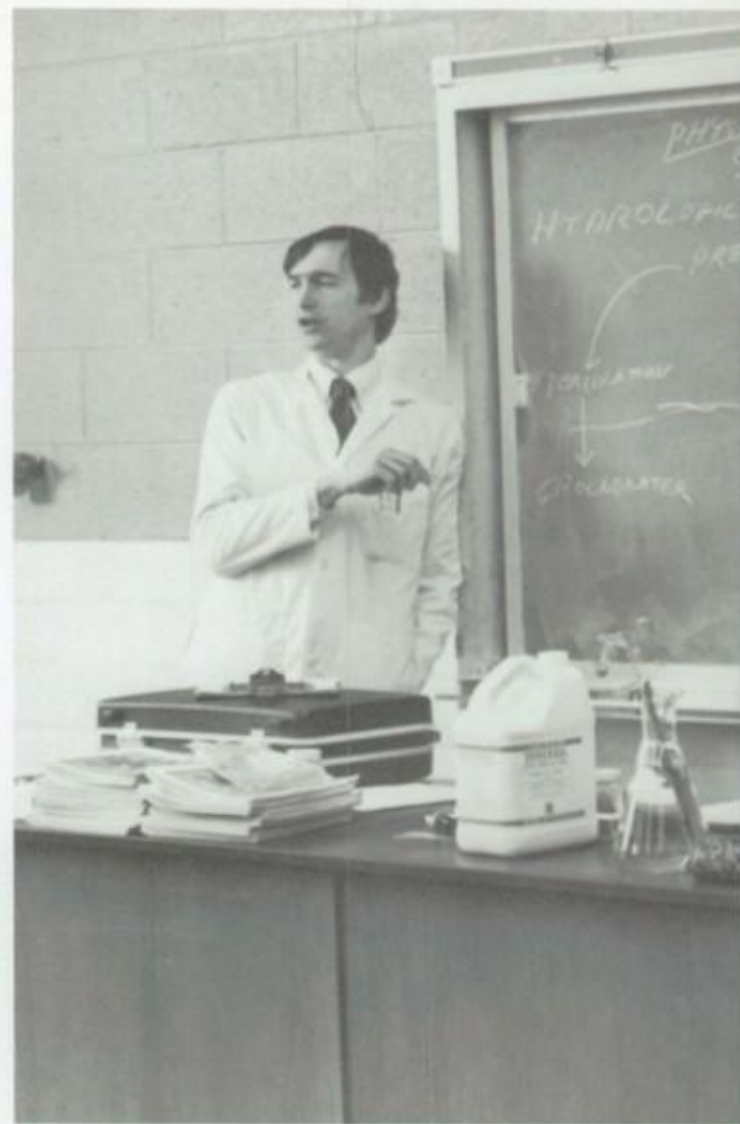

Mr. John Blakeman
Mr. Randy Earl
Mr. Doyt Echelberger

Mr. Steve Finn
Mr. Paul Murschel
Mrs. Carol Palmer

Mr. John Schlessman
Mr. John Stone

Mr. Blakeman lectures on water cycles to his biology class.

It's fish cleaning day in Doc Stone's class as Jeff Butcher and Brad Zech filet a sucker.

Mrs. Palmer, Peter Stengel, Chad Royal, Katherine Lucal, Stacey Lowery, Scott Gregory, and Mr. Blakeman proudly display their plaque for superiors at districts.

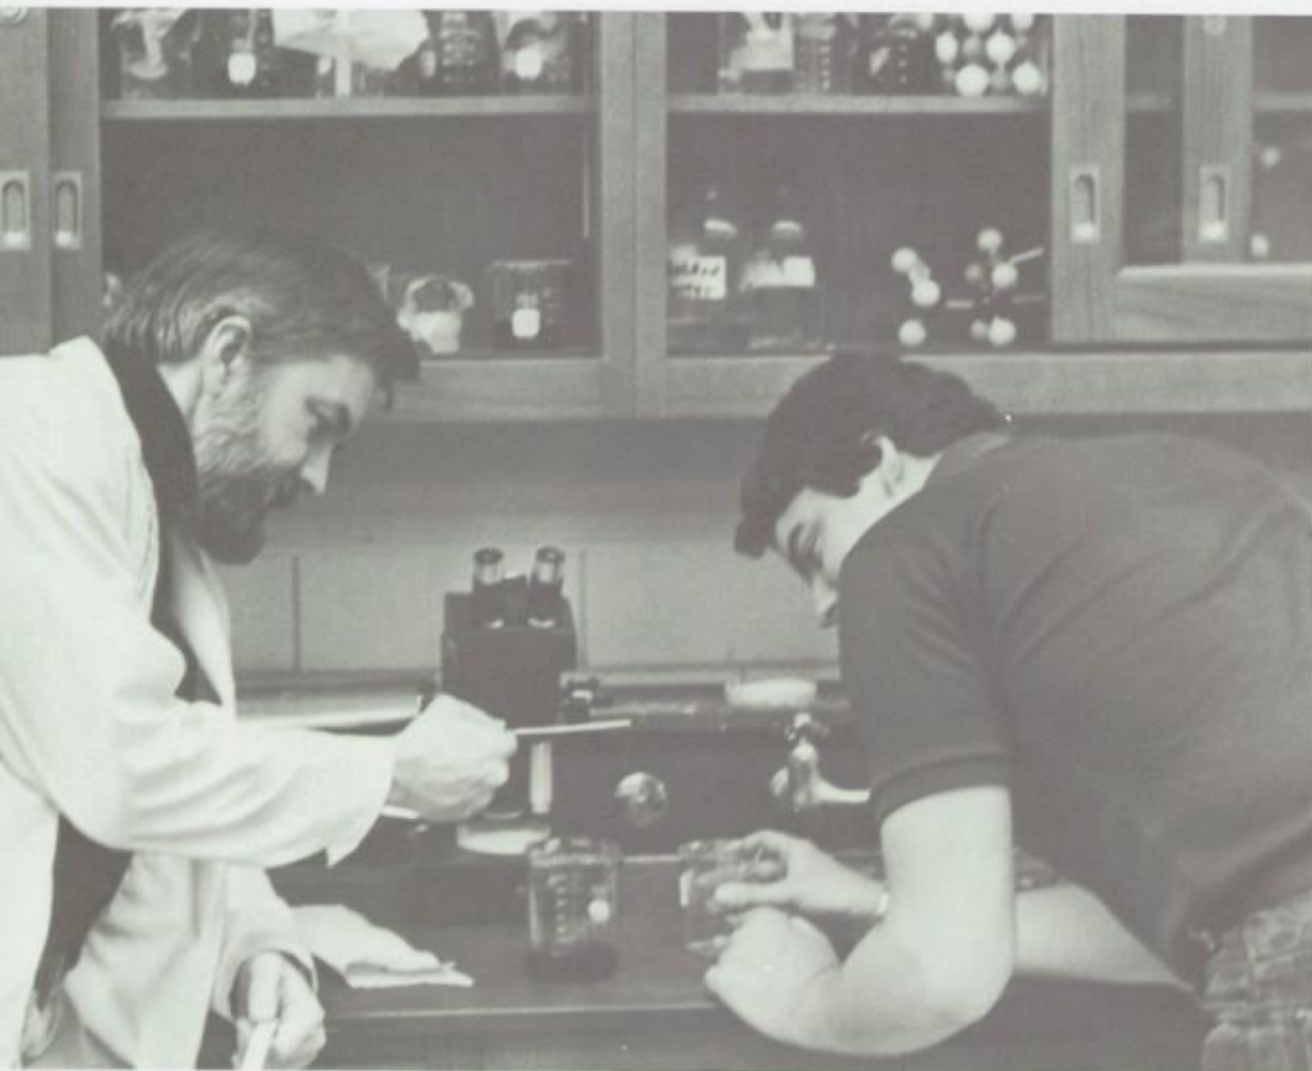

Science Department, a winner!

Mrs. Palmer helps Eric Alafita and Barry Arndt in a chemistry lab.

Mr. "Doc" Stone shows Ray Reece how to stuff a fox in Taxidermy I class.

Mr. Echelberger and Steve Streiffert identify a chemical in physical science class.

The science department kept its usual high quality again this year. The courses that were available to students this year were General Science, Physical Science, Biology I, Biology II, Chemistry I, Chemistry II, Honors Chemistry I, Honors Chemistry II, Physics, and Anatomy and Physiology.

The Science Interest Group, a club for any student, went to a variety of locations this year including Sheldon's Marsh, Oberlin College, Indian Fishing Camp, and the Castalia Quarry, just to name a few.

The annual Perkins Science Symposium was held again this year, with good results. Along with four superiors at the state science fair, Perkins also received the Outstanding High School award, and the Kreckler award for the outstanding science department. Other activities in the science department were the IS2 or Interschool Science Stimulus Program.

Miss Nancy Fultz

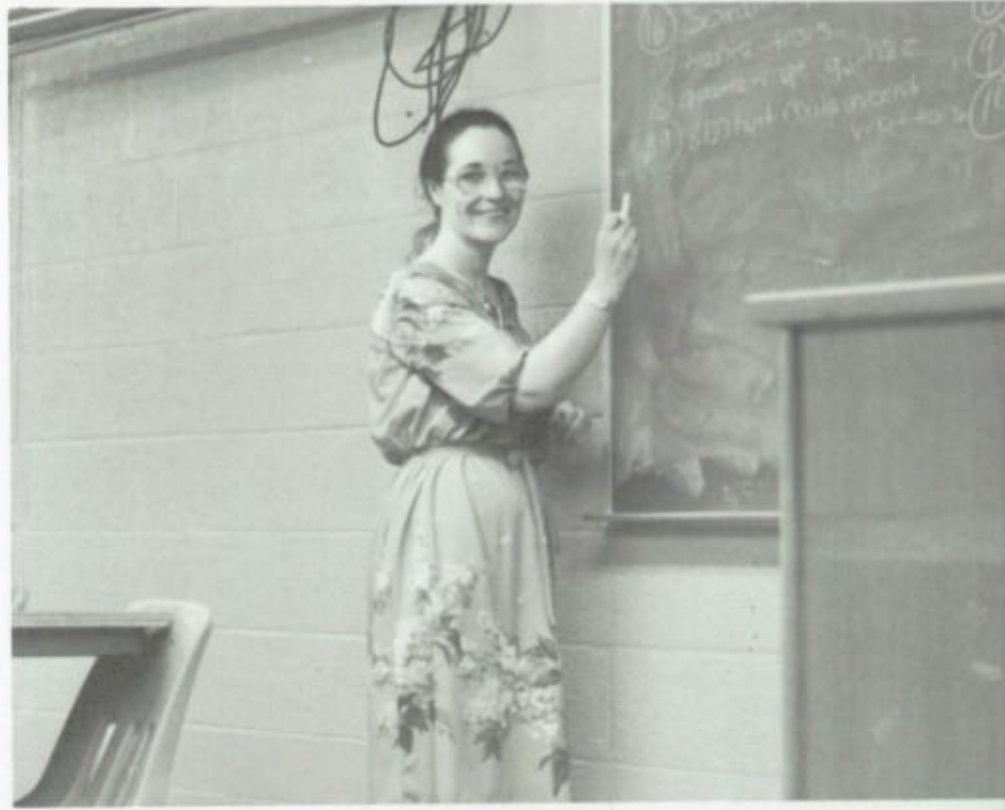

Mrs. Joann Gawryszewski

Miss Donna Haskins

Mrs. Cynthia Kokinda

Miss Fultz tries to explain Spanish to Doug Burger.

Miss Gawryszewski goes over an assignment in one of her French classes.

Mrs. Haskins talks to her French class.

Foreign Language now needed for some colleges

Miss Fultz happily greets Peter Stengel and Lisa Homegardner at the door.

Mrs. Kokinda helps a student with Latin.

Throughout the year the students who take foreign language, not only learn to speak the language, but they also get to learn about the people who speak or spoke the language. The students get to taste foods from the countries at least once a year. Miss Fultz's Spanish classes went to a Mexican restaurant in Toledo to to sample Mexican food. The classes also got to visit art exhibits and concerts.

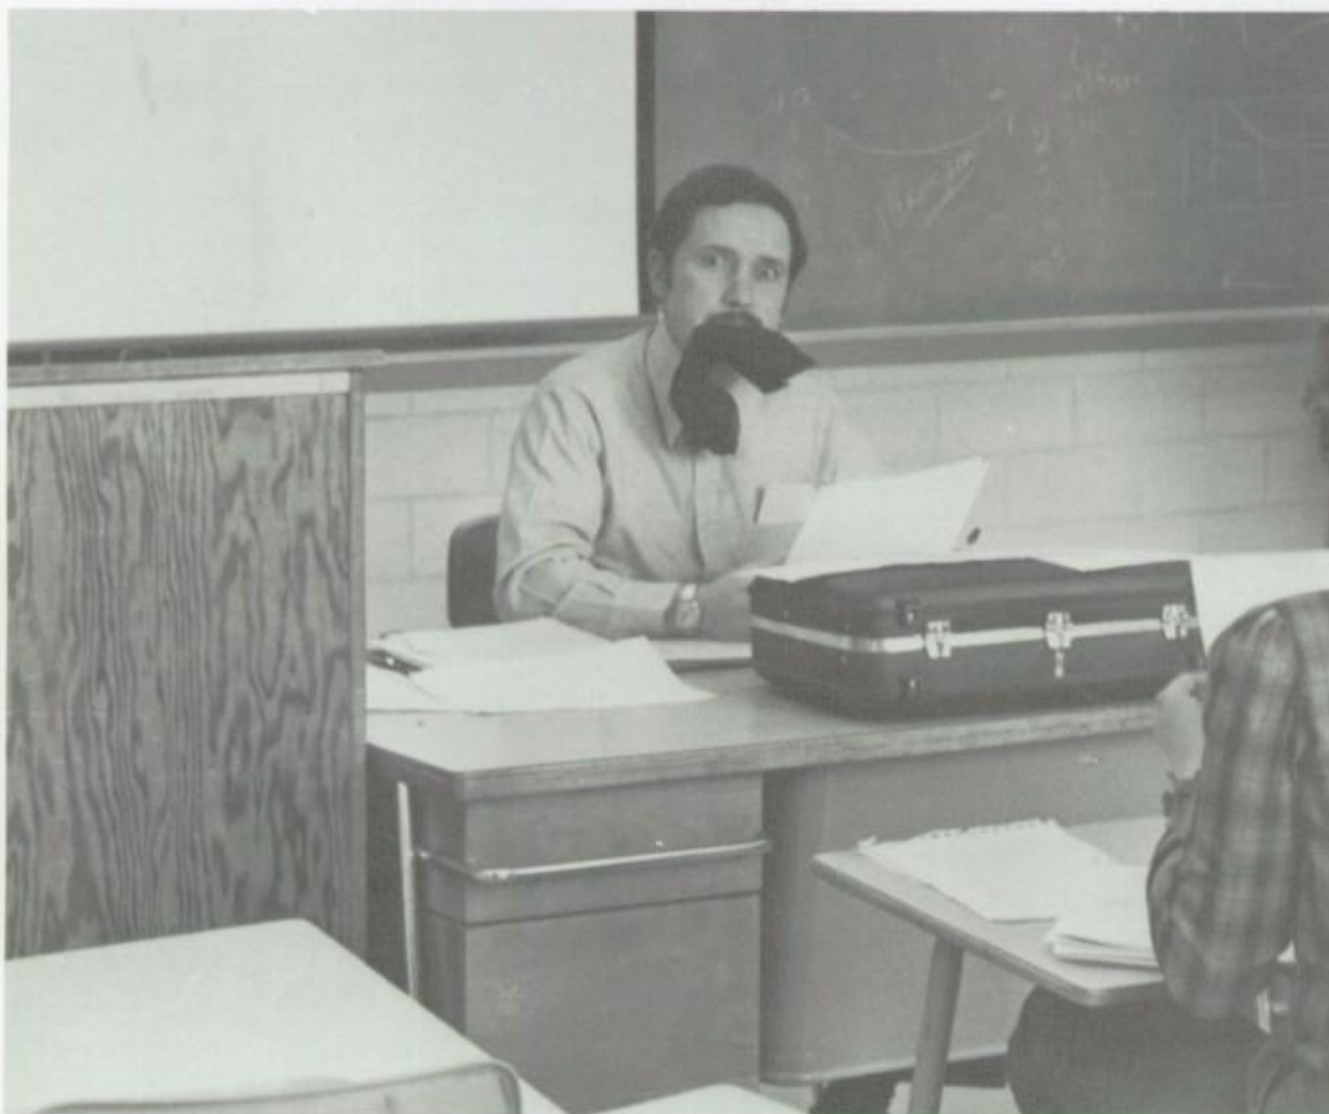

The language courses that are offered are French, Latin and Spanish. Taking one of these classes is almost a must for the college-bound student.

Mrs. Gawryszewski lectures to her class.

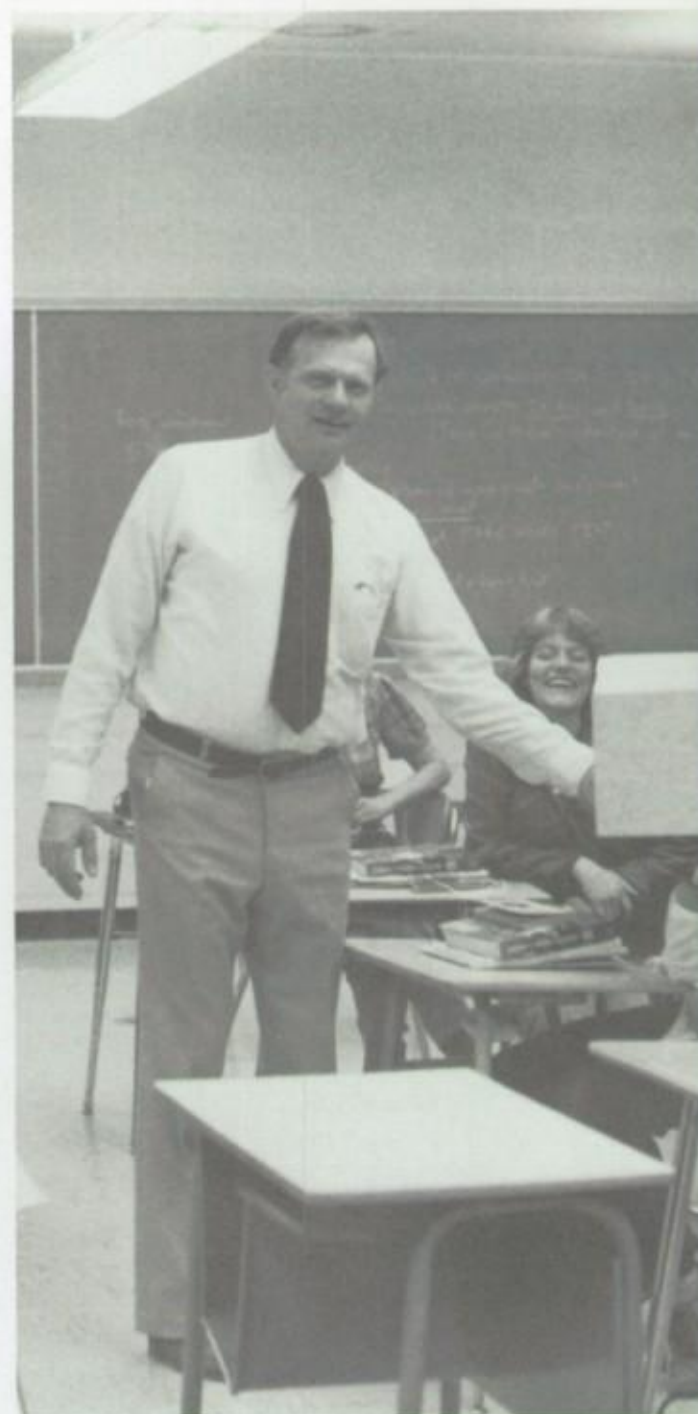

Mr. Edward Muffler
Mr. James Patton
Mr. Robert Stephenson

They all failed!

Mr. Stephenson uses visual aids?

Mr. Muffler has everyone's attention.

Mr. Mehling looks over homework in his government class.

Mr. Stephenson helps Missy Elmer with a question.

Social Studies-the U.S., the world

Mr. Patton answers a question while giving notes on the overhead.

The Social Studies Department teaches students not only about the United States, but also about the world. Headed by Mr. Muffler, the department has six different classes, four of which are required. They are Introduction to Social Studies, World Geography, World History, U.S. History, American Government and Current Affairs.

Youth in Government and the Law Day program are activities that the department sponsors. In Youth in Government, students have a chance to go to Columbus to sit on the House floor and present a bill which they have written. During Law Day, students are elected to different positions throughout the county. They visit that office for a day.

Mr. Shawn Beamer, Mr. Kenneth Fleming, Mr. Vince Vartorella.

Shop, VoAg look to the future

Mr. Fleming and Neil Korn discuss a design.

Jeff Todi and Mr. C. collaborate on a shop project.

Mr. Beamer demonstrates a power saw while Jim Bing gives attention to his project.

Matt Mapus and Dave Clark set up to weld.

In industrial arts, students learn to work with wood for a vocation or other possible future applications. Such skills as drafting, lettering, sketching and dimensioning are also taught. Students also learn metalworking, electricity skills, and power mechanics.

In VoAg students receive an orientation to the concepts of vocational agriculture. They receive assistance in the planning of a supervised occupational experience and an orientation to the FFA which is an integral part of the program. The students also participate in farm management programs and conservation classes.

Pete Davis, Mark Stacey, Bob Ortner, Mr. Gasteier and Carl Roth work on an FFA project.

Phil Keys and Ty Lemons take a break.

Mrs. Lorene Gregory
Miss Donna Wendt

Sue Lichtcsien studies the pattern before she begins sewing.

Home economics is geared toward exposing students to the areas of food, clothing, child care, family living, housing, and management. Students learn to prepare food for one or more people. They also learn to make clothes and manage family finances.

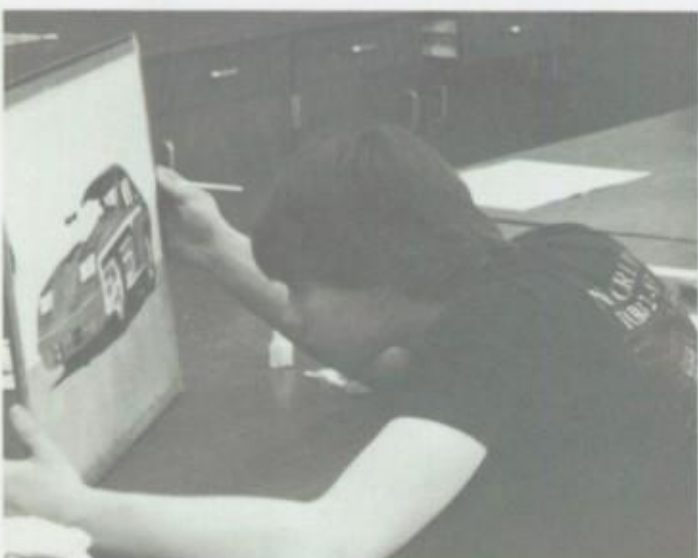

Miss Wendt helps Mike Clark on a home ec project.

Mrs. Karen Krupp teaches Child Development and Home Furnishings.

Miss Charlene Schuman

Tom Wahl inspects fine detail on his painting.

Miss Schuman watches Rich Bonilla while he works on his art project.

Art works

Ms. Schuman had a busy schedule this past year. Along with teaching Art I-IV, she taught crafts and art drawing. This year her advanced students are working on a wall that will include life masks and a full figure. Other groups in her classes are involved in a variety of art techniques that include, ceramics, painting, sculpturing, drawing and the crafts.

Miss Schuman's classes also visited the El Greco exhibition in November, and in the spring. Students throughout the year will be trying to qualify for National Art Honor Society, which is a very high honor.

Ken Nixon is hard at work on a painting.

Miss Schuman helps Jennifer Cuthbertson and Amy Anderson on their drawings.

Mr. Lavy conducts the wind ensemble.

Mr. Eugene Fisher
Mr. Dennis Lavy

Mr. Martin Lydecker

Mr. Fisher, Sonali Shah, Brenda Groves, Marci Patton, Joanna Elliott, and Brenda Roeser work on a song.

Practice makes perfect

The 1983 band lived up to its usual standard of excellence. They received superiors in the state marching band and state concert band competitions. This year's band students also had a chance to go to Chicago on the band trip. The students got to visit different museums and different sections of town. The band performed at a variety of places including the fall concert, the Christmas concert, and the Fine Arts Festival.

The choir also sang at the fall and Christmas concerts. At the Fine Arts Festival, the band and choir performed "The Battle Hymn of the Republic" together.

Many long hours are spent practicing to achieve perfection.

Mr. Lydecker practices with the concert band.

Mr. Ron Sislowski
Mrs. Carol Smith

Mrs. Jane Zimmerman
Mrs. Janet Zura

Mrs. Zimmerman helps one of her IOE girls with a typing problem.

Business

Business classes at Perkins include general business, business math, shorthand, typing, accounting, and business law. Each course is designed to develop economic understanding and knowledge of the free enterprise system as well as basic manual skills to improve efficiency in communication.

The typing class listens carefully to some instructions.

Mr. Sislowski addresses his business class.

Mrs. Zura works hard making job contacts for her COE students.

During one of the phys ed classes, Karen Murru gets caught by the camera.

Mr. Joseph Groscost
Mr. James Hauser

Mr. James Stauffer
Ms. Brenda Weaver

Keep fit

Mr. Groscost had another fine year teaching the freshman health. This year, however, he tried something different with his more advanced students. They were allowed to go to the library to work on special projects, instead of doing classwork. He said all and all he had another good year.

Mr. Hauser and Mr. Stauffer had another busy year with their gym classes. Both men kept their students busy with a variety of games and other activities, such as mattball, softball, and this year ping pong.

This year Ms. Weaver not only taught the high school girls' gym classes, but she also taught gym classes at the Middle School. Her classes also had a chance to play many different games throughout the year.

Mr. Groscost and Chester Dixon work on a health question.

Ms. Weaver shouts instructions in from the sidelines while the class plays "guard the pin"

Tony Green and Joel Foss try their skill at ping pong during gym.

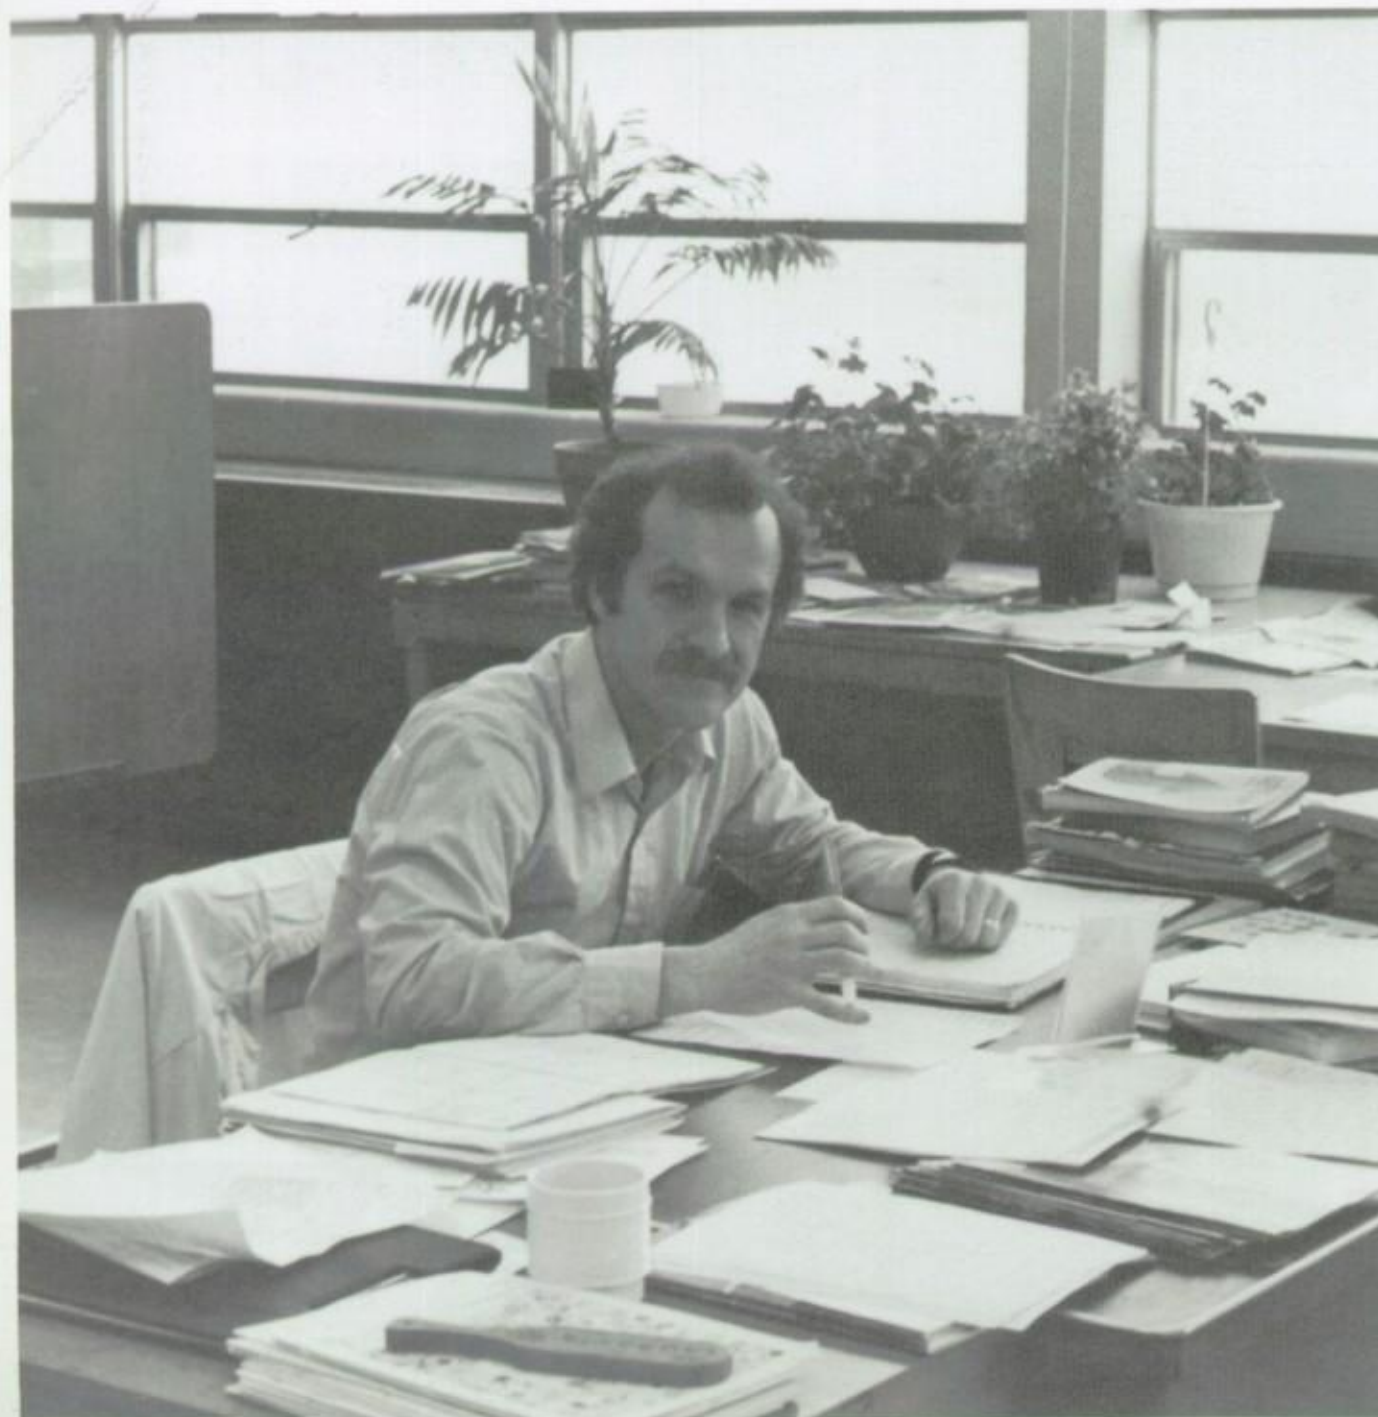

Mr. Jeff Printy, Mr. James Reed

Mr. Reed OWE teacher lectures to his class.

Mr. Mary Jo Lewis is the LD teacher.

Mr. Frank Laudonia is the ACE instructor.

OWA, OWE, ACE LD programs meet needs

Two co-op programs OWA and OWE offer work experience for sophomores, juniors, and senior. Students receive in-school instruction and supervised on-the-job work experience with co-operating employees. The major purpose of the program is to develop necessary skills and abilities which will enable the students to become productively employed.

Still another co-op program is ACE. This is a program to provide a high school diploma to participants. The goal of the course is the development of the full potential of individuals for seccessful functioning in society.

Another invaluable individual aid for students is the learning disabilities program. This program helps students with special learning difficulties.

Perkins pride shines through inside ceremonies

Kris Plummer and Jill Todi make adjustments before commencement.

Rick Smith greets his mother as he enters the gym.

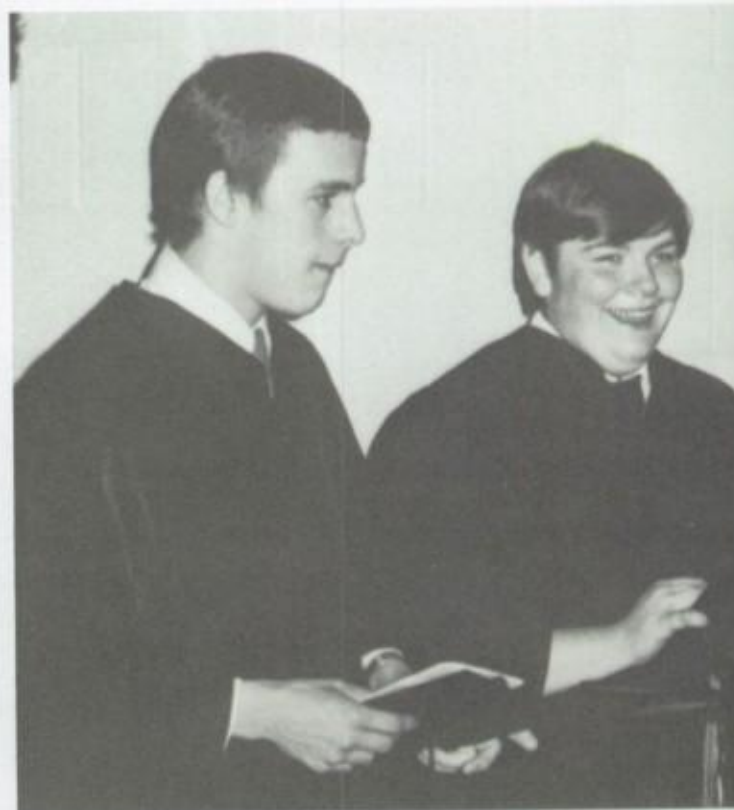

The senior choir members sing one last time.

The sun may not have shone on the 23rd annual commencement ceremonies, but Perkins pride was certainly shining as 200 seniors were graduated. Even though bad weather forced the May 29 ceremonies indoors, no one's spirits were dampened.

Commencement began with the Rev. Merrill Braymer giving the invocation, and then senior class president, Dawn Bickley, introduced the platform guests.

The highlight of the ceremony was the reading of a letter from a former teacher, Mr. Joseph LaBella.

Class president, Dawn Bickley, and class speaker, Greg Cook reminded everyone that four years of hard work was being honored in this final ceremony. "I feel the thrill of successfully completing secondary school, yet I am saddened by the realization that we shall never again stand

Amy Riesterer reads an open letter from a former teacher, Mr. LaBella.

Dawn Bickley passes on the senior sword to Chris Smith.

Linda Davis helps Karen Stewart adjust her collar before graduation.

Class speaker, Greg Cook, addresses the class for the final time.

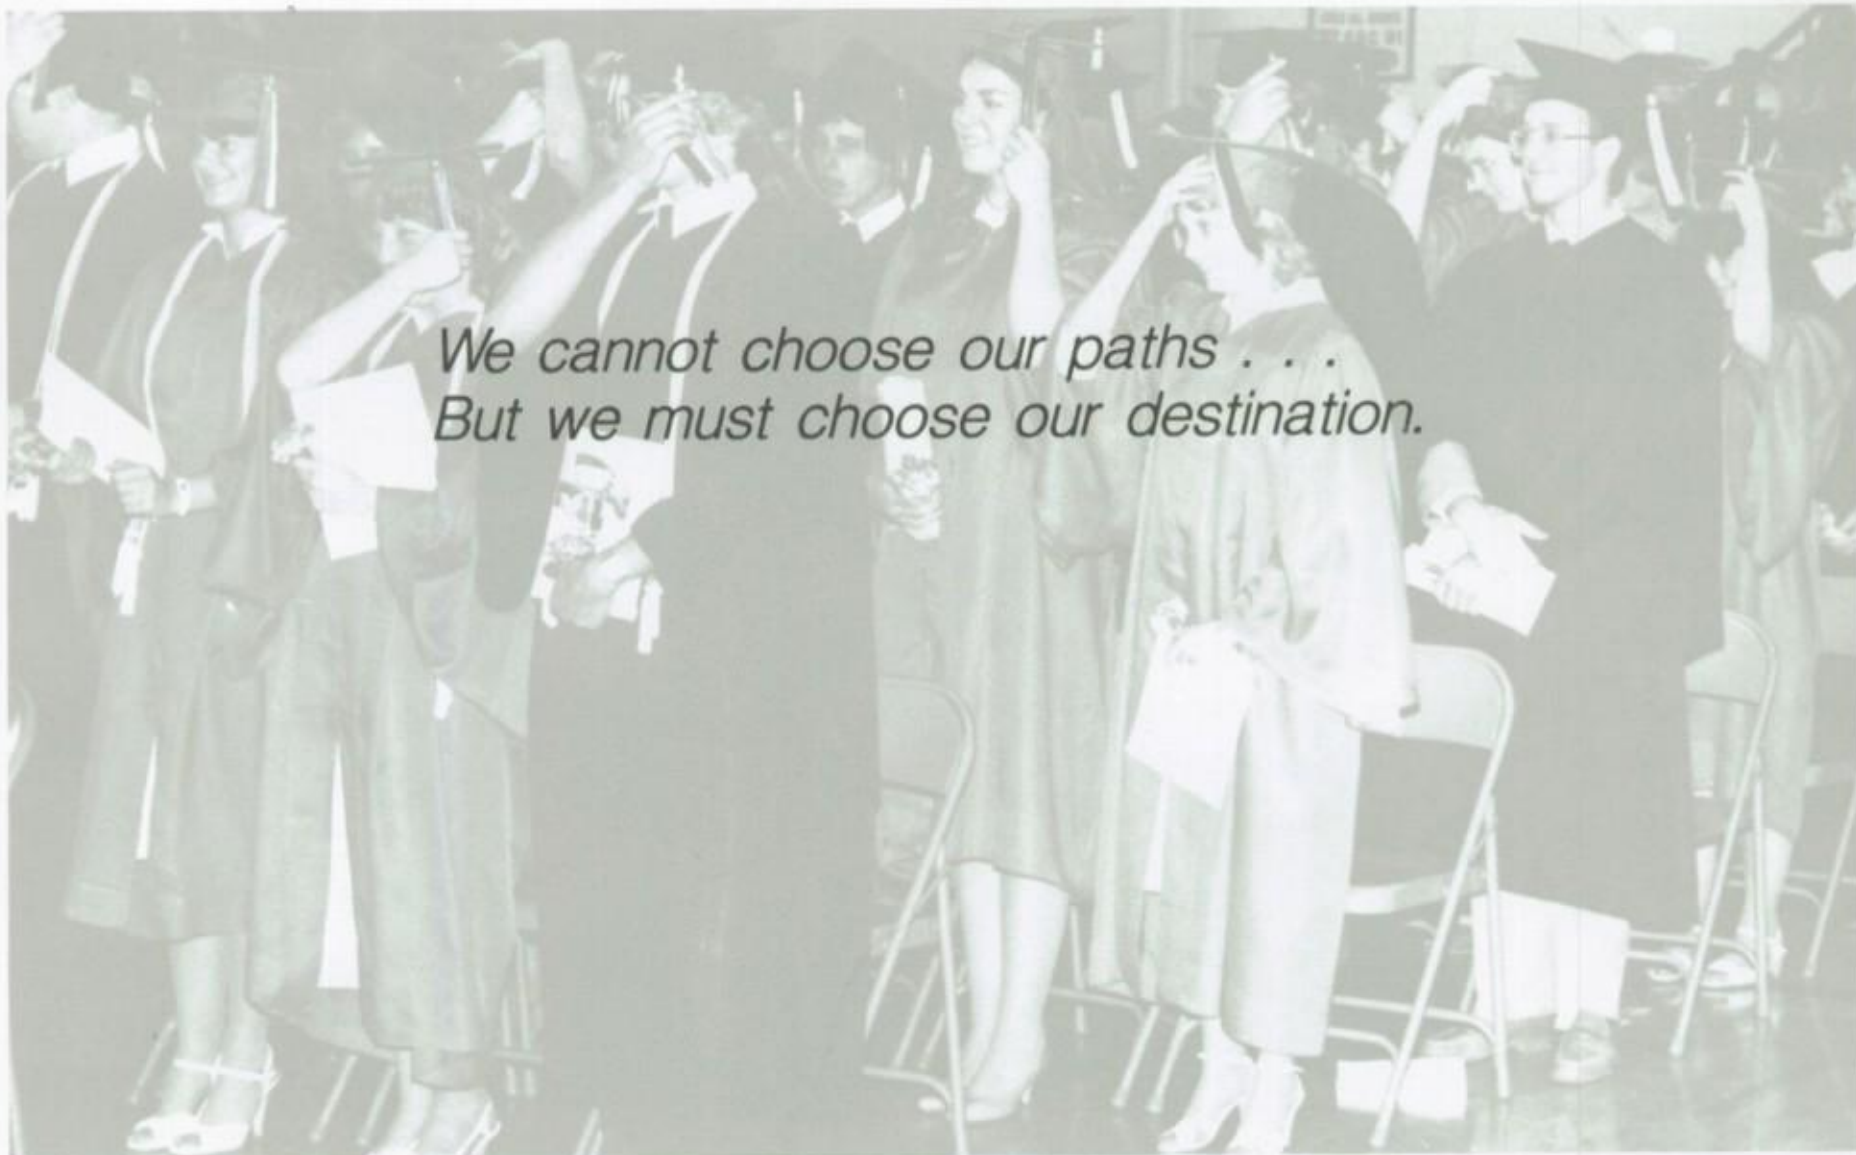

Jennifer Cuthbertson was recognized for designing the graduation program cover.

together as on unified body-the class of 1983. I am happy as I recall the many good times we've had together, yet saddened that soon only the memories will remain," said Greg.

During graduation Mr. Shoff stated that the class of 1983 had been one of the most successful in the school's history largely because of its many leadership qualities.

Scholarships totaling over $19,000 were awarded at graduation and at the honors banquet.

A final message

Eighty-three, the year to be, our time has finally come. With fond hearts we'll remember all those friends who were so dear. So here is to the future, the present and the past. May the memories of our high school days last and last.

During this school year there have been many notable occurrences in the world around us. The change that affected high school students the most raised the legal drinking age in Ohio to 19 and did away with low beer. Along the same lines, Ohio put into effect the drunk driving laws which contained a mandatory stay in jail and a license suspension. A memorial commemorating American soldiers killed in the Vietnam War was erected in Washington and the final scene of M*A*S*H* was seen this year. Unemployment and inflation were at their highest and both the football players and independent truckers went on strike.

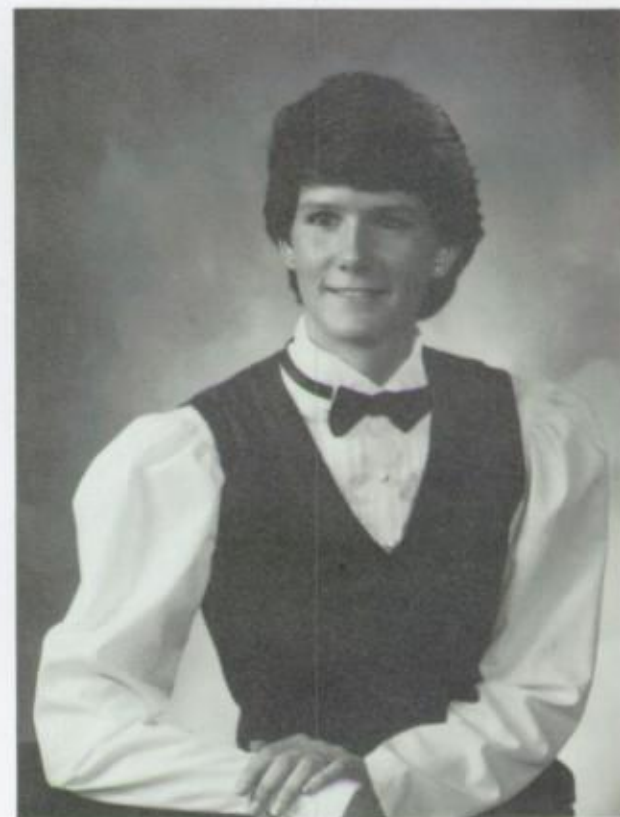

THE END is here, but not without a lot of hard work. Whenever a big project like this is completed there are many people to thank. First of all a large thanks goes out to our patrons and to our advertisers whose financial support is so greatly appreciated. A hearty thanks goes to the people at Jay Photography for putting up with us crazy high school students. I'd like to thank Becky Berberick for taking some super pictures and Jennifer Cuthbertson for her priceless drawings of the mascot. The entire yearbook staff deserves a big congratulations for a job well done. Most of all a special thanks goes to Mrs. Souter for her patience, understanding and her willingness to help whenever needed.

The faces and events in this book were a big part of the 1982-83 school year. It was our goal not only for you to remember these times now, but years from now we hope that you can look back through these pages and remember a time that was special to you.

Set your goals high and never give up,

Linda Kay Davis
